Assails Republican Leaders In Address At Brooklyn On Friday Night

By GEORGE DUNNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

A BOARD OF PRESIDENTIAL SPECIAL, En Route To Cleveland, Nov. 2.—President Roosevelt made a strong bid for upstate New York support today as he swung west to Cleveland after warning the Republican rank and file that their leaders had entered into a "new unholy alliance" with "extreme reactionary and extreme radical elements" to supplant true American democracy with an imitation of foreign dictatorships.

Before he reaches Cleveland tonight for "number 5" in his last minute assaults on the candidacy of Wendell Willkie, the president's schedule will have carried him through Rochester, Buffalo and Buffalo, N. Y., and Erie, Pa., with a series of fast-punching, extemporaneous talks in each city.

In Erie this afternoon the Erie appearance late this afternoon will mark his last effort to put the "Keystone state" of Pennsylvania in the third term column next Tuesday.

Tonight's speech from the Cleveland auditorium goes on the air at 9:00 P. M., E.S.T.

Four years ago, President Roosevelt wound up his 1936 campaign in Madison Square Garden with the assertion he has "just begun to fight." Last night he told a howling crowd in the Brooklyn Academy of Music that "I shall not stop fighting!"

The chief executive undertook in his Brooklyn speech to dissect the forces behind the campaign of his opponent, whose name he again carefully refrained from mentioning.

"Something evil is happening in this country," Mr. Roosevelt asserted solemnly, "when a full page advertisement is published in the New York Times."

PA NEW OBSERVES

Hunters came upon the unsuspecting "bunnies" with lightning rapidity, Friday morning. One hunter states that he shot four rabbits in quite a short time. Just as he shot one, another hopped up nearby, which he got, and within ten yards two more made their appearance, those also he "bagged," and the hunt was over.

Traffic going east on East Washington street, near Butler avenue, was delayed for some time this morning when a local ice truck upset a load of ice on the street. Brushes and brooms from a nearby gas station were secured and the chunks were swept to the curb, with conditions on the street returning to normal.

More than 2,000 aliens have been registered so far by the staff at the New Castle post office building. For the past few days, the registration staff has been calling on those persons who are bedfast or invalids.

Daily Weather Report

United States weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 5 p. m. Friday are as follows:
Maximum temperature, 54.
Minimum temperature, 37.
Precipitation, .62 inches.
River stage, 4.6 feet.

Statistics for the same date a year ago, follows:
Maximum temperature, 48.
Minimum temperature, 35.
Precipitation, .04 inches.

Expect Over 40,000 Votes Will Be Cast In County Tuesday

Along with over four million other Pennsylvanians, Lawrence County voters will troop to the polls on Tuesday November 5 to vote for the next president of the United States and with him such state officers as United States Senator, Congressman from the 26th district, state senator, two representatives in the General Assembly, state treasurer and auditor-general.

Indications point to a record vote. In 1936 Lawrence county cast over 37,000 votes in the national election.

Observers here believe the vote on Tuesday in this county will run over 40,000 out of a total of over 46,000 votes registered.

Short Ballot

The ballot next Tuesday is a short one. Instead of voting for 36 electors for the Presidency, the ballot this year merely shows the names of the candidates for President and Vice President. This means a saving of many spaces on the ballot and a consequent saving of the time of the election boards. Instead of counting the votes of 36 names in each column, the boards will count the votes for the President and Vice President, and these votes are votes for the 36 electors.

Two ballots will be handed to (Continued On Page Two)

Football Scores

For New Castle High-Johnstown High football scores this afternoon, the phone schedule in calling The News is: 4000 to 5 p. m.; 22 or 4024 from 5 to 6:30 p. m.; and 175 after 6:30 p. m.

Will Remove Bad Curve On Route To Harlansburg

New Castle Duntile Company Is Low Bidder For Bridge And Stretch Of Roadway

CONTRACT TO BE AWARDED LATER

One of the worst traffic hazards in Lawrence County will be removed shortly, when work is started on the removal of the S-curve near the end of the old macadam stretch on Route 106, the Harlansburg road, about a half mile this side of Liberty Grange hall. A new bridge will also be erected at this point.

When bids were opened at Harlansburg yesterday, the New Castle Duntile Company of this city was found to be the low bidder on the project, their price for the construction of the bridge and 24 miles of highway being $20,283.

The road at this point is narrow and curves sharply. According to the plans, the road will be straightened eliminating three curves. This will necessitate the building of the new bridge.

Two Injured As Train Hits Auto

New Castle Men Are Injured At Scollard Crossing Near Leesburg Friday Evening

James Abraham, aged 26, of 1207 Pollock avenue, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital suffering from a fracture of the nose, lacerations of the face, and shock, received when an automobile driven by Mike Tony, aged 25, of 120 Frank Way, collided with a Pennsylvania freight train on the Scollard crossing, near Leesburg, between eight and nine o'clock Friday evening. Tony suffered a contusion of the head, but did not remain in the hospital.

According to the report made at the hospital, Tony was driving on route 170, between Grove City and Leesburg, and because of the slippery condition of the highway was unable to stop and ran into the engine of the train.

They were brought to the hospital here in an ambulance.

British Mediterranean Fleet Prepares To Strike Blow In Defense Of Greece

By A. E. ANGELOPOULOS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ATHENS, Nov. 2.—In a spectacular victory over numerically superior Italian forces, Greek troops have routed the enemy along the Florida road in northern Greece and penetrated more than three miles into Albanian territory, it was officially announced here today.

Fighting fiercely and with utter disregard for the superior numbers of the enemy, the Greek warriors stormed the Italian fortified positions at the point of the bayonet.

The counter-offensive was ordered by the Greek commanders in response to the impatience of the Greek troops over the defensive type of warfare they had been fighting since the Italian invasion.

Took Italians By Surprise

The suddenness and ferocity of the Greek attack took the Italians by surprise, according to the official announcement.

With wild yells of contempt for the Italian soldiers, the Greek troops routed them and pushed on into Albania.

Nine Italian officers and 149 Italian soldiers were captured by the Greeks. One hundred dead animals were seized, as well as a considerable quantity of equipment.

The victorious Greek troops advanced in the direction of the Albanian town of Bitolj.

While this successful attack was under way, other Greek troops staged another counter-offensive further south along the Albanian border.

This attack also was meeting with success, according to official quarters here, who said a violent battle (Continued On Page Seven)

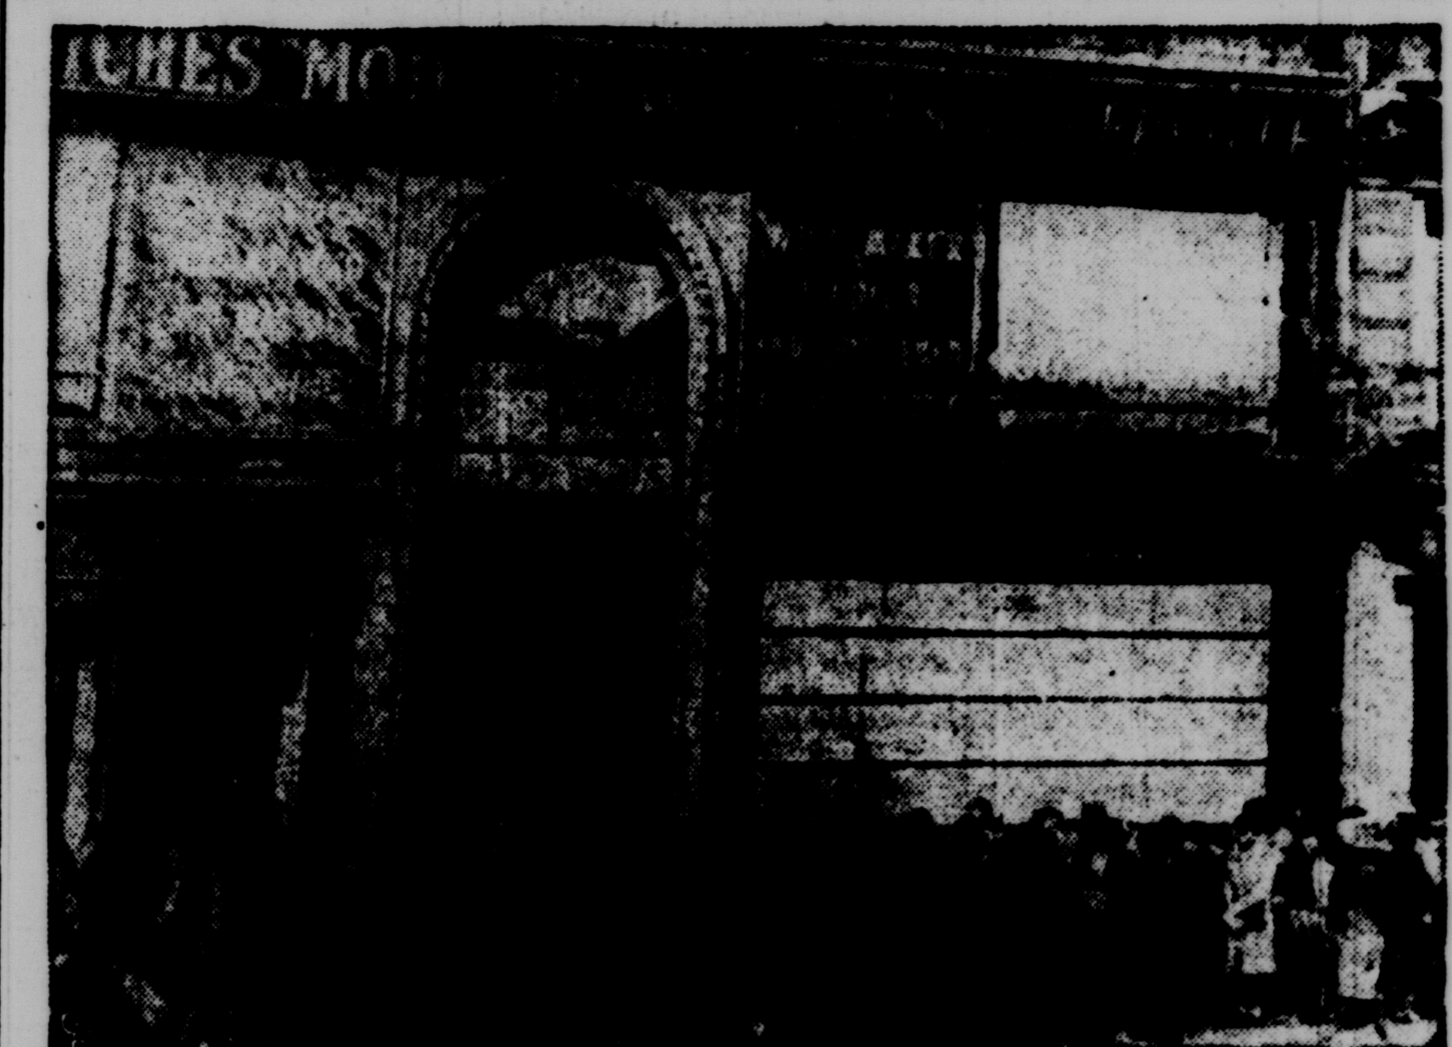

Great Lakes Naval Training Vessels On Active Duty

Find Skull And Skeleton

Remains Of Person Located Today In Swamp Near West Pittsburg

HEAD SEVERED OFFICERS REPORT

Severed skull and skeleton of a man, apparently five feet six or eight inches tall, and who apparently had blonde hair, was found this morning by Mike Seman, West Pittsburg, while hunting in the West Pittsburg swamp. The skull and skeleton were found about 150 yards distant from where a headless body was found last October.

Seman was hunting for rabbits when he discovered the skull lying against a log. He notified Constable Walter Bannion who relayed the information to State Policemen McCullough, Flueger, County Detective Welsh, District Attorney Lamoree and Coroner Nugent.

Find Skeleton

When McCullough, Welsh, Flueger and District Attorney Lamoree arrived they saw the skull and after a search found the skeleton of the remainder of the body lying, breast up, 42 feet from the skull.

The skeleton was covered by small logs. Beneath the skeleton plain evidence of a fire was discovered.

Coroner Nugent said after State Motor Policemen McCullough had found all the vertebrae and that in his opinion the murderer had used a knife and was skilled in its use.

All clothing was missing, nothing being found near the skeleton to give any clue as to identity.

Several molar teeth had been extracted according to Coroner Nugent. State Motor Policemen McCullough dug into the dirt where the skull was and discovered incisors which had fallen out.

According to Coroner Nugent he believes the murder was committed during cold weather, months ago.

The spot where the remains were found is directly east of the P. & L. E. railroad Canal track. The remains were 150 yards farther in the swamp (Continued On Page Two)

Delegate TO Chicago Democratic Convention Urges Willkie Election

A Virginia Democrat who was a delegate-at-large to the Chicago convention in July, came to New Castle Friday night to urge the election of Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican candidate for president.

Attorney Hugh Graham Morrison, with a family tradition of three generations in the Democratic party back of him, who had served Senator Carter Glass as secretary, spoke to a crowd that packed the Arena to the roof and this despite weather that might have been expected to keep people at home.

Morrison is an unusual young man with an unusual forensic ability. In another day he might have been one of the Crusaders, for his speech here Friday night was nothing at all like the usual political address. It was an appeal to Americans to remember their heritage before it was too late, to strike down those who would explore new and dangerous political paths by first abandoning tradition.

A "Survivor"

Reminding his hearers that the men who retreated from Dunkirk were known as the "Survivors of Dunkirk," Mr. Morrison said, "I am a survivor of the Charley McCarthy convention in Chicago. It takes a (Continued On Page Two)

London Reports 23 Nazi Planes Shot Down In 24 Hours

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Seven German planes were shot down over England today, according to official reports so far received, as Nazi raiders renewed their attacks, dropping a number of bombs on the London area.

While three new air raid alarms sounded in London, British anti-aircraft batteries and fighting planes went into action, knocking seven planes out of the air in addition to five destroyed during the night and 11 shot down yesterday—a 24-hour total of 23.

Latest British losses were put at seven fighting planes.

Palace Damaged

At the same time it was revealed that Kensington palace, residence of junior members of the royal family, was damaged by a bomb during a recent raid.

The palace, one of the residence of reigning British sovereigns, ceased to occupy that role with the accession of George III, and since that time younger members of the royal family and pensioners of the crown have lived in its apartments.

Queen mother Mary was born in Kensington palace in 1867.

During the latest raid—London's 228th of the war—which ended at 11 a. m. (5 a. m. E.S.T.), anti-aircraft (Continued On Page Two)

German Vessel And Crew Taken Near Greenland

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 2.—German's first attempt to penetrate the Western hemisphere failed when the Norwegian patrol boat Frithjofnsen captured a German vessel and its crew of 50 as the Nazis attempted to seize five meteorological stations on the east coast of Greenland, the Daily Express reported from Stockholm today.

The German expedition, said the Express, started from the Norwegian port of Alesund, manning their vessel with a Norwegian crew and heading for the Eskimo colony at Scoresby Sound.

When finally captured by the Norwegian ship, even meteorological equipment aboard the German ship were armed with rifles, grenades, and machine-guns, the dispatch reported.

However, all aboard the German ship surrendered without a fight and were taken to the nearest port occupied by British forces, according to the Express.

Will Make "Big" Campaign Speech At Madison Square Garden Tonight

By WALTER KIERNAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN, En Route New York, Nov. 2.—Preparing for his own big speech in Madison Square Garden tonight, Wendell Willkie today inspected the fourth political speech of President Roosevelt in the current campaign and asserted:

"The whole purpose of the third term candidate's speech was to stir up class hatred and divide our people. That was the tactic of Lenin, the strategy of Hitler and the preaching of Trotsky."

From early afternoon yesterday until near noon today, Willkie's private train lay on a siding in the New Jersey meadows near Kearney. It was the longest period of comparative quiet the candidate has had in months and he used the time to stroll along the right of way, work on his Madison Square Garden speech, and talk briefly with Rep. Joe Martin, his national chairman, and Sam Pryor, eastern division manager of his campaign, both of whom brought optimistic reports for Tuesday's election.

Statement On President's Speech

Willkie's statement on the president's speech was as follows:

"I listened to the speech of the third term candidate tonight. It was his fourth defense speech—defense of his own administration. Like the previous ones it was either obsolete or on order."

London Reports Greek Forces Enter Albania

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Italian warplanes bombed and machine-gunned British troops as they disembarked on the Greek island of Crete yesterday, the Italian high command reported today.

Several steamers sustained direct bomb hits and port facilities were badly damaged in the course of the attack which a communique reported was carried out "with viable effect."

Other Fascist planes, the communique said, continued raids on Greek cities and military objectives while other squadrons bombed British positions in Africa.

No mention was made by the high command of troop operations in Greece beyond the brief reference that "actions of our troops in the Kalamas valley are continuing in the direction of Jannina and on the heights of Pindus."

German Air Force Suffers Big Losses

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 2.—During the last 12 weeks, the German Luftwaffe has lost three warplanes and 14 airmen for every royal air force plane shot down, the air ministry revealed today.

Since August 8 R. A. F. fighter planes, anti-aircraft gunners and barrage balloons have accounted for 2,433 German bombers and fighters, it was claimed.

Latest information in London, these quarters said, is that Greek morale is high and that the Greek forces are fighting well.

It was felt the war soon will pass from the sphere of local skirmishes and witness the anticipated main Italian assault toward the southern coastal sector, possibly directed toward the gulf of Corinth.

At the same time, official British circles warmly welcomed the speech of Turkish president Ismet Inonu, who reaffirmed Turkey's alliance with Britain but said Turkey would remain out of war for the time being.

British Planes In Berlin Raid

Bombs Dropped By Warplanes

Amsterdam Area Is Also Attacked By R. A. F., Berlin Announces

CASUALTIES ARE NOT SPECIFIED

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Nov. 2.—Dropping explosive and incendiary bombs, British warplanes raided Berlin last night and early today, killing and injuring an unspecified number of residents.

An official announcement said that part of the British planes which penetrated Germany were turned back by anti-aircraft fire but that some succeeded in reaching the capital.

At the same time a German official news agency (DNB) dispatch from Amsterdam said 19 wounded soldiers and seven Dutch civilians were killed and a number of other persons injured when British planes bombed a military hospital and a residential area in Amsterdam.

The British attack on the capital aroused Berliners from their sleep after four nights of peace in the city. Some time after the warning sirens sounded anti-aircraft guns began firing at the raiders, flying high over Berlin, while searchlight beams pierced the starry sky.

The raid apparently concentrated on the northern and eastern section of the capital, where fires were dropped, followed by bombs.

Finally the attackers were driven back by a heavy anti-aircraft barrage but one British plane swooped low over the center of the city, where it drew a heavy concentration of fire as it dashed to the north.

EXPECT OVER 40,000 VOTES WILL BE CAST IN COUNTY TUESDAY

each voter in New Castle and Ellwood City. The main ballot will be for the offices to be filled, and the extra ballot will be for a vote on the question of Sunday motion pictures. The count of the ballots should be in fairly early this time, for there is no involved ballot to be tabulated.

The ballots contain the party designations and also the candidates. In the party blocs are listed the Democratic, Republican, Socialist, Prohibition, Communist and Industrial Government parties. A vote in the party bloc means a vote for all candidates upon that ticket.

Individual Votes

For the voter who intends to vote for candidates upon various tickets the names of each candidate are listed. They appear upon the ballot as follows:

For President and Vice President: Democratic, Franklin D. Roosevelt; Henry A. Wallace; Republican, Wendell L. Willkie, Charles L. McNary; Socialist, Norman Thomas. No Vice Presidential candidate appears.

For United States Senator: Democratic, Joseph P. Guffey; Republican, Jay Cooke; Socialist, David H. H. Felz; Prohibition, H. B. Mansell; Communist, Carl Reeve; Industrial Government, Frank Knott.

For state treasurer: Democratic, G. Harold Wagner; Republican, James F. Malone, Jr.; Prohibition, L. J. Lindsey; Communist, Benjamin Carethers; Industrial Government, Mary Gesensway.

Auditor-general: Democratic, F. Clair Ross; Republican, Frederick T. Gelder; Prohibition, William F. Miller; Communist, Peter Joseph Paul; Industrial Government, George S. Taylor.

Congress: Democratic, Peter P. Reising; Republican, Louis E. Graham.

State senator: Democratic, J. K. McQuiddy; Republican, W. Sharp Fullerton; Prohibition, Paul C. Millard.

Representative in the General Assembly, first district: Democratic, Presley N. Jones; Republican, Oliver J. Shannon; Prohibition, P. M. McGuffie.

Representative in the General Assembly, second district: Democratic, Clyde M. Buzard; Republican, George T. Weingartner; Prohibition, Stuart Hunt.

WILLKIE REPORTS MOST OPTIMISTIC

has not discussed any of the real issues of 1940. Instead, he engages in an imaginary debate with straw men and attempts to create class conscious divisions among our people. He complains that the Republican ticket has the support of many different elements of our population.

"The answer to that is obvious. It is because our party is today the only one which offers unity to the country. People who differ about details can and do unite on a patriotic principle. They are united in upholding the principle against the third term and in keeping out of war.

Desperate Effort

"In desperate effort to block this movement of unity, the third term candidate stooped to the use of an alleged quotation which, if made, was discreditable. This quotation is supposed to have come from someone in Philadelphia having no connection with the national Republican ticket. I could as well condemn the third term candidate and his whole new deal party for the irresponsible act of his own secretary in kicking in the stomach a Negro policeman who was only doing his duty. I utterly condemn the alleged utterance of that Philadelphia lawyer, just as the third term candidate should condemn the act of his secretary.

"The whole purpose of the third term candidate's speech was to stir up class hatred and divide our people. That was the tactic of Lenin, the strategy of Hitler and the preaching of Trotsky.

Shallow Argument

"The third term candidate attempted to defend his record of continually unbalanced budgets and astronomical expenditures by citing the abnormally low interest rate at which a recent issue of short term government notes were sold. The shallowness of this argument must be disturbing to anyone with the slightest understanding of economics. There is an obvious reason why government securities find a market at such low interest rates. It is because the policies of the new deal have so limited the opportunities for investment in productive private enterprise that makes jobs, that money has been driven out of productive employment and into the bombproof shelters of tax exempt government bonds.

Completely False

"The third term candidate pretended that the policies of his administration had been beneficial to the little businessman of America. This is completely false. As a matter of fact, small business has suffered under the new deal far more than big business. Small business, as a whole, has not made a profit in any single year under the new deal.

"According to treasury figures, in the best year we had under the new deal, 1937, only thirty-three per cent of small corporations showed a profit. And that is even less than the number which showed a profit in the depression year of 1931.

"But big business showed another story. In the depression year of 1931, only thirty-six per cent of the big corporations made a profit, whereas by 1937, the latest year for which we have figures, sixty-six per cent of the big corporations showed a profit.

Small Business Hurt

"The new deal pretends to be the friend of little business, yet it has actually hurt small business even more than it has hurt big business. Small wonder that a recent poll among small businessmen shows that practically all of them expect to vote against the third-term candidate in the coming election.

"The third term candidate continues to campaign as though he were still running for his first term. For the benefit of the American people, I should like him to answer these questions:

Answer These

"(1) In the past seven and a half years the new deal has spent more than sixty billion dollars and more than doubled the national debt. Tell us, Mr. Third-Term Candidate, how long we can continue with an unbalanced budget? How long can we continue to pile up the national debt without bringing about bankruptcy or the chaos of inflation?

"(2) There are more than nine million men unemployed today, as many as were unemployed when the third-term candidate ran for his second term. Mr. Third-Term Candidate, tell the American people how it is that we have made no net gains in employment under your latest administration. What is your program for providing our people with jobs? Do you subscribe to the statement of your campaign manager that there can never be jobs in private industry for all our people?

"(3) Mr. Third-Term Candidate, tell the American people what argument you have that has not already been advanced by the dictators of Europe as a pretext for continued power for offering yourself to the American people as an indispensable man?

"(4) Mr. Third-Term Candidate, the campaign of 1932 is eight years behind us. When will you begin to discuss the issues of the campaign of 1940?

Arriving in New York, Willkie planned to go to Willkie headquarters at the Hotel Commodore and remain there until time to go to the Garden for his speech.

Sunday and Monday he expects to spend more or less quietly and Tuesday he will vote early and probably alternate the balance of the day between his headquarters and his home.

He will receive the election returns at his headquarters.

LONDON REPORTS GREEK FORCES ENTER ALBANIA

fire and the sound of exploding bombs were heard in the London area.

Shortly before this a strong force of German messerschmidt fighters crossed the Kent coast. Anti-aircraft batteries broke up their formations, but some of the planes continued enroute to London.

About 9 a. m. a strong force of raiders, flying at tremendous altitudes crossed the coast and headed to London but were driven away by British fighting planes.

Attacks On Germany

Simultaneously it was announced that R. A. F. operations during the night included heavy attacks on Berlin and oil targets in Central and Western Germany.

(Editor's note: A Berlin dispatch said British raiders dropped bombs on the German capital, killing and injuring some residents.

(British attacks on Italy also were indicated by a Swiss army announcement, reported by the Swiss radio, that during the night a small number of foreign planes flew over the southern part of Switzerland.)

The British air ministry, in a communique describing the Nazi night raids, said the attacks were more widespread than during previous nights but were not carried out on a large scale. By midnight, the statement said, the attacks almost ceased save for a further short attack on the London area during the early hours of the morning.

The German attacks, the ministry stated, were directed mainly against southeastern England including the London area, but bombs also were dropped on eastern Scotland, two Midland towns and the Merseyside area.

Small Business Hurt

"The new deal pretends to be the friend of little business, yet it has actually hurt small business even more than it has hurt big business. Small wonder that a recent poll among small businessmen shows that practically all of them expect to vote against the third-term candidate in the coming election.

"The third term candidate continues to campaign as though he were still running for his first term. For the benefit of the American people, I should like him to answer these questions:

Answer These

"(1) In the past seven and a half years the new deal has spent more than sixty billion dollars and more than doubled the national debt. Tell us, Mr. Third-Term Candidate, how long we can continue with an unbalanced budget? How long can we continue to pile up the national debt without bringing about bankruptcy or the chaos of inflation?

"(2) There are more than nine million men unemployed today, as many as were unemployed when the third-term candidate ran for his second term. Mr. Third-Term Candidate, tell the American people how it is that we have made no net gains in employment under your latest administration. What is your program for providing our people with jobs? Do you subscribe to the statement of your campaign manager that there can never be jobs in private industry for all our people?

"(3) Mr. Third-Term Candidate, tell the American people what argument you have that has not already been advanced by the dictators of Europe as a pretext for continued power for offering yourself to the American people as an indispensable man?

"(4) Mr. Third-Term Candidate, the campaign of 1932 is eight years behind us. When will you begin to discuss the issues of the campaign of 1940?

Arriving in New York, Willkie planned to go to Willkie headquarters at the Hotel Commodore and remain there until time to go to the Garden for his speech.

Sunday and Monday he expects to spend more or less quietly and Tuesday he will vote early and probably alternate the balance of the day between his headquarters and his home.

He will receive the election returns at his headquarters.

Rescuers Seek To Reach Men Trapped In Mine

(International News Service)
SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 2.—Believed buried under or trapped beneath a fall of rock and coal which occurred last night, James Long, North Scranton, and Julius Yankowski, West Scranton, were sought today by gangs of rescuers in the mine of the Penn-Anthracite Co. on West Mountain.

State mine inspectors and company officials said indications were that both men were pinned by debris and were dead. But they also suggested the possibility that the imprisoned miners succeeded in dodging the cave and may still be alive.

Danger of further caves hampered rescue work.

An airline was constructed as workers cleared a path through fallen timber and debris. Forty other miners fled to safety when the coal and rock began falling.

Relief Rolls In State Are Lower

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 2.—September brought a new low in the number of persons on federal and state relief in Pennsylvania, the total dropping to 1,167,000, approximately 267,000 persons less than a year ago, the state department of public assistance disclosed today.

The number on relief represented the lowest since the organization of statewide relief in the fall of 1932, a striking contrast to the all-time high of May, 1933, when 2,500,000 people were on relief.

During September, 1940, about 12 out of every 100 persons in Pennsylvania were dependent on aid extended by the state and federal government, whereas in May 1933 about 21 persons out of every 100 were relief recipients.

young man to survive things like that for the older men have forgotten the creed of my party, the Democratic party.

"I supported Franklin Roosevelt in 1932 and again in 1936. Why was I a delegate in 1940? Because I believed in my heart that Roosevelt would not allow his name to be presented as a candidate in defiance of the tradition of the years."

"In times of crisis a leader always appears to lead the people. That leader today is Wendell L. Willkie. This silly talk about his not having had previous governmental experience seems fatuous when we remember other days. The Civil War is over and as a southerner I have learned to revere the name and memory of Abraham Lincoln.

Enthusiastic Meeting

As he finished Morrison got such an ovation as has been granted to few political speakers in New Castle. For thirty minutes after he finished he stood on the rostrum shaking hands with men and women who filed by to buttress their ovation with a personal word.

Mr. Morrison made the principal address. Short addresses were made by Oliver J. Shannon and George T. Weingartner, candidates for the General Assembly and W. Sharp Fullerton, candidate for the State Senate. County Chairman Roger W. Rowland presided at the meeting and introduced the candidates. Judge Thomas W. Dickey introduced the principal speaker.

Music was provided by the Mount Jackson high school band and Padon's orchestra. At the conclusion of the program doughnuts and cider were served.

The rally was the last Republican meeting of any size before the election, but it closed the campaign on a note of hope and inspiration.

It is known that, throughout last summer detectives were in this vicinity hopeful of catching the "butcher" whom all officials believe is skilled with a saw and knife. The identity of that body has not yet been made.

Last winter three murdered men were found in a railroad car in the Pittsburgh district having been shipped from Ohio, according to reports. Today's discovery was the first similar crime discovered in this section.

DO NOT SELL THE USE OF YOUR GOOD NAME

A letter recently issued by the Sioux Falls Chamber of Commerce contained a pertinent thought. Promptors off schemes of questionable value seek to "buy" the use of the good name of some local organization in order that they might put over their promotion on the business interests of the city. If the officers of all Clubs, Churches, Lodges, Ex-Service Men and other organizations will constantly be on guard that they do not sell the use of their good name to these outside promoters, these "easy-money" schemes will soon be eliminated in this community.

NO PEACE MOVE DECLARES ITALY

(International News Service)
ROME, Nov. 2.—Italy has no intention of entering into peace negotiations with Greece, officials in Rome declared today.

"Greek rejection of the Italian ultimatum (demanding territorial concessions to Italy for duration of the European war) set in motion a military machine which will deal with the situation," it was stated.

MEN'S GARDEN CLUB BANQUET WEDNESDAY

Plans are rapidly nearing completion for the annual banquet of the Men's Garden club, to be held this year in the Chewton Christian church, on Wednesday, November 6, at 6:45 o'clock.

Following the banquet and brief meeting, the guests will go to the Hennon Brothers greenhouses to view the chrysanthemums which will be on display. It is expected that there will be an attendance of 100 or more at the dinner. Prof. Chas. G. Lindner of Euclid avenue has charge of reservations which must be made before Sunday night. The Youngstown Men's Garden club is sending a delegation of 25.

Those wishing transportation or who are willing to take others are to notify J. W. Anderson, transportation chairman. Autos will leave the West Side Pennsylvania station at 6:10 o'clock sharp, and parking space is provided in Chewton at the back of the church.

William McCombs will have charge of pop singing and Irvine A. Balph and Norman Y. Patton of finances. N. R. Casilio and Andrew Dadds will act as the reception committee.

1914 BOOK MEMBERS MEET AT CASTLETON

Mrs. Harry Preston graciously received members of the 1914 Book club in the Castleton Friday afternoon for a 1 o'clock luncheon with Mrs. George Winter sharing as a special guest.

Following the exchange of books, contract was in play.

Members were invited to the home of Mrs. C. E. Trainor on East street for the November 15th meeting.

J. F. F. MEMBERSHIP AT MCCARTNEY HOME

Mrs. Harold McCartney, of North Ashland avenue, entertained as guests in her home Friday evening, the J. F. F. club members, with bridge as the pastime. Honor prizes fell to Mrs. William J. Davis and Mrs. James Kearns. The traveling award was carried off by Mrs. John Daly, Jr.

Special guests were Helen Cannon and Mrs. Matthew Curtis, the latter receiving the hostess gift.

After the serving of lunch, plans were made to meet on Thursday, November 14, with Mrs. John Daly, Jr., on North Liberty street.

JAMESON NURSES DANCE AT FIELD CLUB SUCCESS

Most successful, was the semi-formal dance given in the New Castle Field club Friday evening by the Jameson-Shenango Nurses Alumnae Association, which attracted upwards of a hundred couples. It marked their annual frolic.

Dancing was enjoyed, with a popular orchestra providing the program of music. Included in the guest list were nurses and friends coming from cities both distant and nearby.

Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Perry and Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Cleland served as chaperones during the evening. Miss Margaret Devereaux, directress of nurses of James Memorial hospital, was a special guest.

The committee in charge was headed by Miss Elizabeth Taylor, chairman; Jessie Kildoo, Mrs. Alice Brunswick, Miss Eleanor Gibson, Mrs. Getty Hensley, Miss Elizabeth Kendall, Miss Mary Margaret Adams, Mrs. Irene Cassillo, Miss Dorothy McMillen, Mrs. Helen Craig, Miss Gertrude Dietterle and Mrs. Helen Vondereau.

ANOTHER PARTY FOR MARTHA McCLUSKEY

Miss Marion Book entertained a number of guests in her residence on Englewood avenue Friday evening, at a lovely shower, honoring Miss Martha McCluskey, who will become the bride of Edward Houk on Thanksgiving Day.

Bridal contests were enjoyed after which, the girls assembled in the dining room where Miss Book displayed a tea wagon carrying an array of gifts, which proved a complete surprise to Miss McCluskey.

Refreshments were served at a nicely arranged table, centered with a miniature wagon filled with baby mums, corsages, tied with pastel ribbons, leading to each guest's place. Aides in serving were the hostess' mother, Mrs. Luanna Book and Mrs. Mary Miller.

KAHLE ASHTON POST HAS TUREEN DINNER

Members of the Kahle Ashton Auxiliary No. 8 and their husbands enjoyed a tureen dinner Friday evening in the American Legion Home.

Following the serving of a delicious menu at 6:30 o'clock the group spent the evening in contests with Mrs. Frank Sargent and Mrs. Carl Wallace winning the prizes at the conclusion of play.

The success of the affair is due to Mrs. Charles Anderson and Mrs. Howard Hammond, who were in charge.

Council Meeting
The Four County Council of the American Legion Auxiliary including Lawrence, Beaver, Mercer and Butler counties, will hold their regular meeting at Midland, Pa. on November 14. Mrs. John Gaston of Diamond Way will be in charge of reservations up to November 16.

Mr. And Mrs. A. G. Crawford Golden Wedding On Wednesday

A well known and highly esteemed couple, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Crawford, of 1234 Huron avenue, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Wednesday, November 6, with "open house" at their residence, when they will receive friends, relatives and neighbors informally, to commemorate the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Crawford were married on November 6, 1890, came to New Castle in 1898 from Mantua, O., where they have since resided, making a host of friends, who will read with interest of their approaching anniversary.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Crawford are in good health, and take an interest in every day activities. He is identified as a piano tuner, in which profession he is widely known. Also, he is a thirty-second degree mason.

Both are lovers of flowers, making it a hobby.

The couple are the parents of seven children, three sons and four daughters, two of whom passed away in infancy, Clark A., and Mary Marie. A year ago, Mr. and Mrs. Crawford suffered a double grief in the passing of their eldest granddaughter, Mrs. Evelyn Ball, and within a few months, lost a daughter, Eleanor Crawford.

Among the children living are Mrs. Enid McMillin of Frank avenue; Ernest M. Crawford of East Washington street; Arthur C. Crawford of Cleveland, O. Also, the couple have sixteen grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

The reception hours during the afternoon will be from 2 to 4 o'clock, and in the evening from 7 to 9.

MACON BRIDGE CLUB HAS SEASONS PARTY

An enjoyable evening was spent Friday by members of the Macon Bridge club when they gathered in the home of Mrs. Clark Buell of Conkle avenue, for their regular meeting and annual hallowe'en party.

The business session was held with election of officers taking place and the results as follows: president, Mrs. Henry Sines; secretary, Mrs. Harry Reynolds; treasurer, Mrs. Cecelia Young; press reporter, Mrs. J. B. Mears.

Following, bridge was in vogue, high score awards going to Mrs. Claire Hald, and Mrs. John Sweet. The latter also capturing the galloper. At a suitable hour, the guests enjoyed a delicious hallowe'en lunch.

The next regular meeting will be in the home of Mrs. John Sweet of West Hazel street.

Central Society
Women's Missionary society, Central Presbyterian church, gathered for an all day meeting Friday in the church.

"The Migrants" was the theme of the sessions and Mrs. Grant Fisher had charge of the program. At noon, a lunch was served by Mrs. Oscar Rhodes and her committee. Sessions convened after the serving.

Those discussing the theme were Mrs. Oscar Rhodes, Mrs. Etta Mathels and Mrs. R. M. Patterson. Plans were formed for the thank-offering program and the group will meet soon in the church again.

J. U. Club
Mrs. Beryl Mann entertained members of the J. U. club at a tureen dinner in her home on Sycamore St. Thursday.

At 12 o'clock, a delicious dinner was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Mae Evans and Mrs. Margaret John.

Afternoon hours were spent in games with the high score award going to Mrs. Hazel Donley.

On November 14, Mrs. Evans will entertain the group in her home on Long avenue.

M. C. O. Club
Mrs. D. H. Crowl entertained members of the M. C. O. club in her home at R. D. 1, Friday evening. Card prizes went to Mrs. H. M. Stiker and Mrs. Floyd Rice, with Helen Moon taking the door prize.

After a short business meeting, the hostess, aided by Mrs. Robert Meister, served a delicious lunch.

On November 15, Mrs. Herman Domke will entertain in her home on Almira avenue.

United Society Meeting
United Missionary society members, Central Christian church, were entertained Friday evening in the home of Mrs. A. W. Bauman, Winter avenue.

"Migrants" was the theme and papers were read by Rev. T. B. Shearer and Mrs. A. Leslie.

Social diversions ensued, and refreshments were served, aides being Mrs. Leslie and Mrs. Anna Cowmeadow.

VICTORY BIBLE CLASS MEETS AT EAST BROOK

In the East Brook home of Mrs. C. P. Albom members of the Victory Bible class of the St. John's Lutheran church gathered Friday evening for an interesting program.

Following the regular business meeting Mrs. William Gustafson read the scripture and presented three worthwhile articles entitled "Spiritual Preparedness", "The Side Road" and "Witnessing For the Witnesses".

Special guests last evening were Miss Benson, William Gustafson and John Swanson.

Miss Mary Riffer was co-hostess and Clara and Carrie Albom assisted in serving a delicious lunch.

On December 13 the ladies will meet at the church for their Christmas party.

COY-MCKISSICK WEDDING FRIDAY

In St. Joseph's parsonage Friday morning, Miss Inez Coy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Snow of Pine street, became the bride of Charles McKissick, son of Mrs. Melissa McKissick of McKeesport.

The vows were exchanged at 11 o'clock with Rev. Fr. Peter M. Schirra officiating.

The bride wore an attractive brown wool suit, with moss green accessories, and a corsage of tall-tan roses and baby mums. Cloydna Coy, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a dark brown ensemble with beige accessories and a corsage of roses and baby mums.

Allan McKissick, served his brother as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at the Kaufman Hotel in Zelienople for members of the bridal party.

The couple then left for a trip to Washington, D. C. and other points of interest, and upon their return will reside in McKeesport.

The bride is a graduate of the local high school and of the New Castle Hospital Nurses Training School. For the past two years she has been employed on the staff of St. Joseph's Riverside Hospital in Warren, O. Mr. McKissick is affiliated with the Irwin Works at McKeesport.

First Christian Group
Women's Missionary society, First Christian church, met in the church Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Ralph Eakin was in charge of the program. Mrs. Roy Waite had the religious period, whose theme was "I Will Build My Church To City Abundant Life". Mrs. G. T. Bennett gave a resume of the talk of Cyrus Vocum of Indianapolis, national secretary of the United Christian missionary societies, in the Central Christian church. Mrs. Eakin gave a talk on "Negro Migration".

Social diversions followed and tea and light refreshments were served by the division committee. Special guests sharing honors were the Misses Eva Bricker and Betty Polard.

T. E. N. Club
T. E. N. club members were entertained Friday evening in the home of Miss Yolanda Giamarino, Cunningham avenue.

Contests were enjoyed and winners were Sue Marone and Mafalda Nocera. Refreshments were served. Plans were formed for a theater party November 6. The next regular session will be at the home of Stella Micaletti, Hamilton street.

DECISION ON THIRD TERM EFFORT NEARS

NEXT Tuesday is a fateful day for the United States of America. Millions of voters throughout the land will visit the polls and register their attitude on the attempt being made to break the traditions of a hundred and fifty years and elect a president for the third term.

The campaign has been growing more dramatic as the date of the balloting approaches, and the meaning of the third term move has become clearer and clearer to the great mass of the voters.

Sentiment has been crystallizing in the past few weeks, and at the present time appears to be expanding faster than at any time in the campaign, against the third term effort.

In New Castle and Lawrence county, there is a record registration of voters, some 46,000 or more. The issues of next Tuesday are so vital that there should be no excuse for any registered man or woman, who is at all able to get to the polls, failing to register their stand on the third term issue.

Likewise, the selection of United States senator, congressman, and members of the state senate and legislature, are only slightly less important than the vote on president.

There is no room for vote slackers at the coming election.

SETBACK FOR SANTA CLAUS

A foretaste of what Christmas, 1940, is going to be over a large part of the world is provided by an order of the Post Office Department canceling all holiday parcel post deliveries in 39 countries.

These cover all of Europe under Nazi or Fascist domination and considerable areas in Africa and the Near East. Ironically there is included the scene of the first Christmas—Palestine.

Since last Christmas the blight of war has spread far and wide, cutting commerce down to a minimum or wiping it out altogether in many directions. Mailing of gift packages to folks in the old countries by citizens and residents of the United States has always played a big part in Kris Kringle's visits over Europe.

But this year he is going to have a tough time bringing any kind of Christmas cheer to the war-torn nations, even though he might be able to slip in between bombing raids.

REGRETTING LOST FREEDOM

People have lost their freedom from time to time down through the long centuries. But they have never failed to regret that loss and to strive to regain liberty.

The world has changed, the editors of "Das Reich," a Berlin newspaper, seems to believe. For this paper is urging the people of the Netherlands and of Scandinavia to "cease regretting their lost freedom and be glad to join the German Reich."

People are stubborn about things like that. They may be conquered. They may be held down by military occupation. They may be denied freedom.

But the longing for lost freedom is something that is not so easily removed as a pair of tonsils. It lies down deep in man, out of reach of the surgeon's knife—or even of the bayonet.

A TEST FOR THE PACT

Indications that the Japanese are reevaluating the triple alliance which they signed with Germany and Italy are coming from Tokyo and it is even hinted by more moderate Japanese statesmen that the understanding with the axis powers may be ditched at the first opportunity if the Italian and German armies show any weaknesses.

Time is the important factor. When the Japanese begin to realize that they are getting almost nothing out of the alliance, that it is a step toward complete estrangement from Great Britain and the United States, the agreement with Hitler and Mussolini may become a dead letter.

The first situation in which the alliance might be applied is the case of the Greek invasion. This incident serves to emphasize how little the alliance means in a material way as long as Britain controls the seas.

With a straight face, the newspaper Nichi Nichi reported that Japan will pledge political and economic support to Italy in her war against Greece but probably will not consider military assistance under terms of the alliance since Rome needs no military help now. If the Greeks' only worry were the danger of Japanese assistance to the Italians, they could look forward to victory with confidence.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Meyers, Ph. D.

DON'T LIMIT TOY GIVING TO HOLIDAYS

About ninety-five per cent of all toys are bought by parents for their children just before Christmas. Yet there is nothing about the late weeks of December which should make playthings more valuable to the child than at any other time in the year. Moreover, practically every toy a child will have during a period of a year is dumped before him on Christmas morning. No toy then can have the value it would have if it were given singly throughout the year. Getting so many toys at once excites the youngster, disperses his attention and tends to make him scatterbrained. He may not play with any one long enough to use it creatively or enjoy it. Certainly it is not favorable for cultivating best care of property.

Some parents may want to be different and proceed more intelligently.

Pick Toys With Care

If parents were to buy toys throughout the year, they would be likely to do it with more care and thoughtfulness. They would have more opportunity to observe and study the child and his likes and use of each toy. Then they might be influenced less by paint and sales pressure right before Christmas. Nor would they be so easily impressed with novel toys so many of which are thrust on the market at Christmas time. Instead they would, I believe, give more attention to those toys which have wide educational value.

As you go shopping, spend some time in the toy department and look for a few toys and games you are sure your child would enjoy and profit from. Don't wait till Christmas to do toy shopping.

In choosing a plaything for a child, ask yourself: Is it likely to break easily. Over how long a period will my child use it? Is he likely to play creatively with it? Is it likely to last with other toys? Can he operate it himself. Can he share it with other children.

Work Toys for Children

Some toys, like plain blocks, with several of the same dimension or multiples thereof, will be used for years. So also can such playthings as small ten pins, dominoes, checker men and crayons, paste, scissors, hammer and saw. A hammer, saw and vice can be selected for the child of three that should be useful to him at six or seven.

Among the most valuable playthings for a child are tools and materials from which he can make things. Begin with the child of three or younger to plan and build up a work shop, adding as he grows able to profit from such additions. A boy or girl should have a good work bench early. It might begin with a vice fastened to the kitchen table. He or she should have a sizable workshop with good tools which with guidance, he can learn to use with care, by the age of ten or twelve. This should grow into a rather elaborate workshop in the basement attic, or garage by high school age.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NOWHERE TO GO.

The story is old and perhaps the reader will remember it. It is the story of the sailor who built himself a boat. He built it on the cellar of his house on the seashore and when it was finished, there was no way to get the boat out of the cellar. I do not remember reading any further in the story—as to whether the house was moved from its foundation to allow the boat to be taken out or whether the boat was dismantled. The story has been repeated by the Douglas Airplane factory.

Back of the Douglas Airplane factory, in Santa Monica, California, towards the ocean, is Clover Field. It is an airport belonging to the Corporation and the Douglas people use it in testing planes which they build. Now, the factory has just finished a super Bomber—a tremendous plane that will carry tons and tons of bombs and enough gasoline to carry it around the world. The alleged cost is $3,000,000, which is a lot of money for an airplane. It has four engines with in its body, each of which develops more horsepower than the engine which drove the Blooming Mill at the Steel Mill.

The sad part of the story is that the runways at Clover Field are not long enough to enable the pilots of this big plane to lift it from the ground. The runways must be lengthened, and in order to do this the city authorities have closed a street and are removing a hill on the other side of the street. It is estimated that it will take six months to finish the runways. If the life and death of the nation depended upon putting that bomber into the air, the war would be over before it could render any assistance.

So much for foresight and hindsight.

UNDER LOW BREATH

If car drivers were arrested for things they say about the other fellow (usually under a low breath) there would have to be many more trial courts. Ever think of that? Or, have you never said mean things about other drivers who annoy you? I was told the other day about an exchange of words between two motorists.

Said first motorist: "Aw, what's the matter with you?"

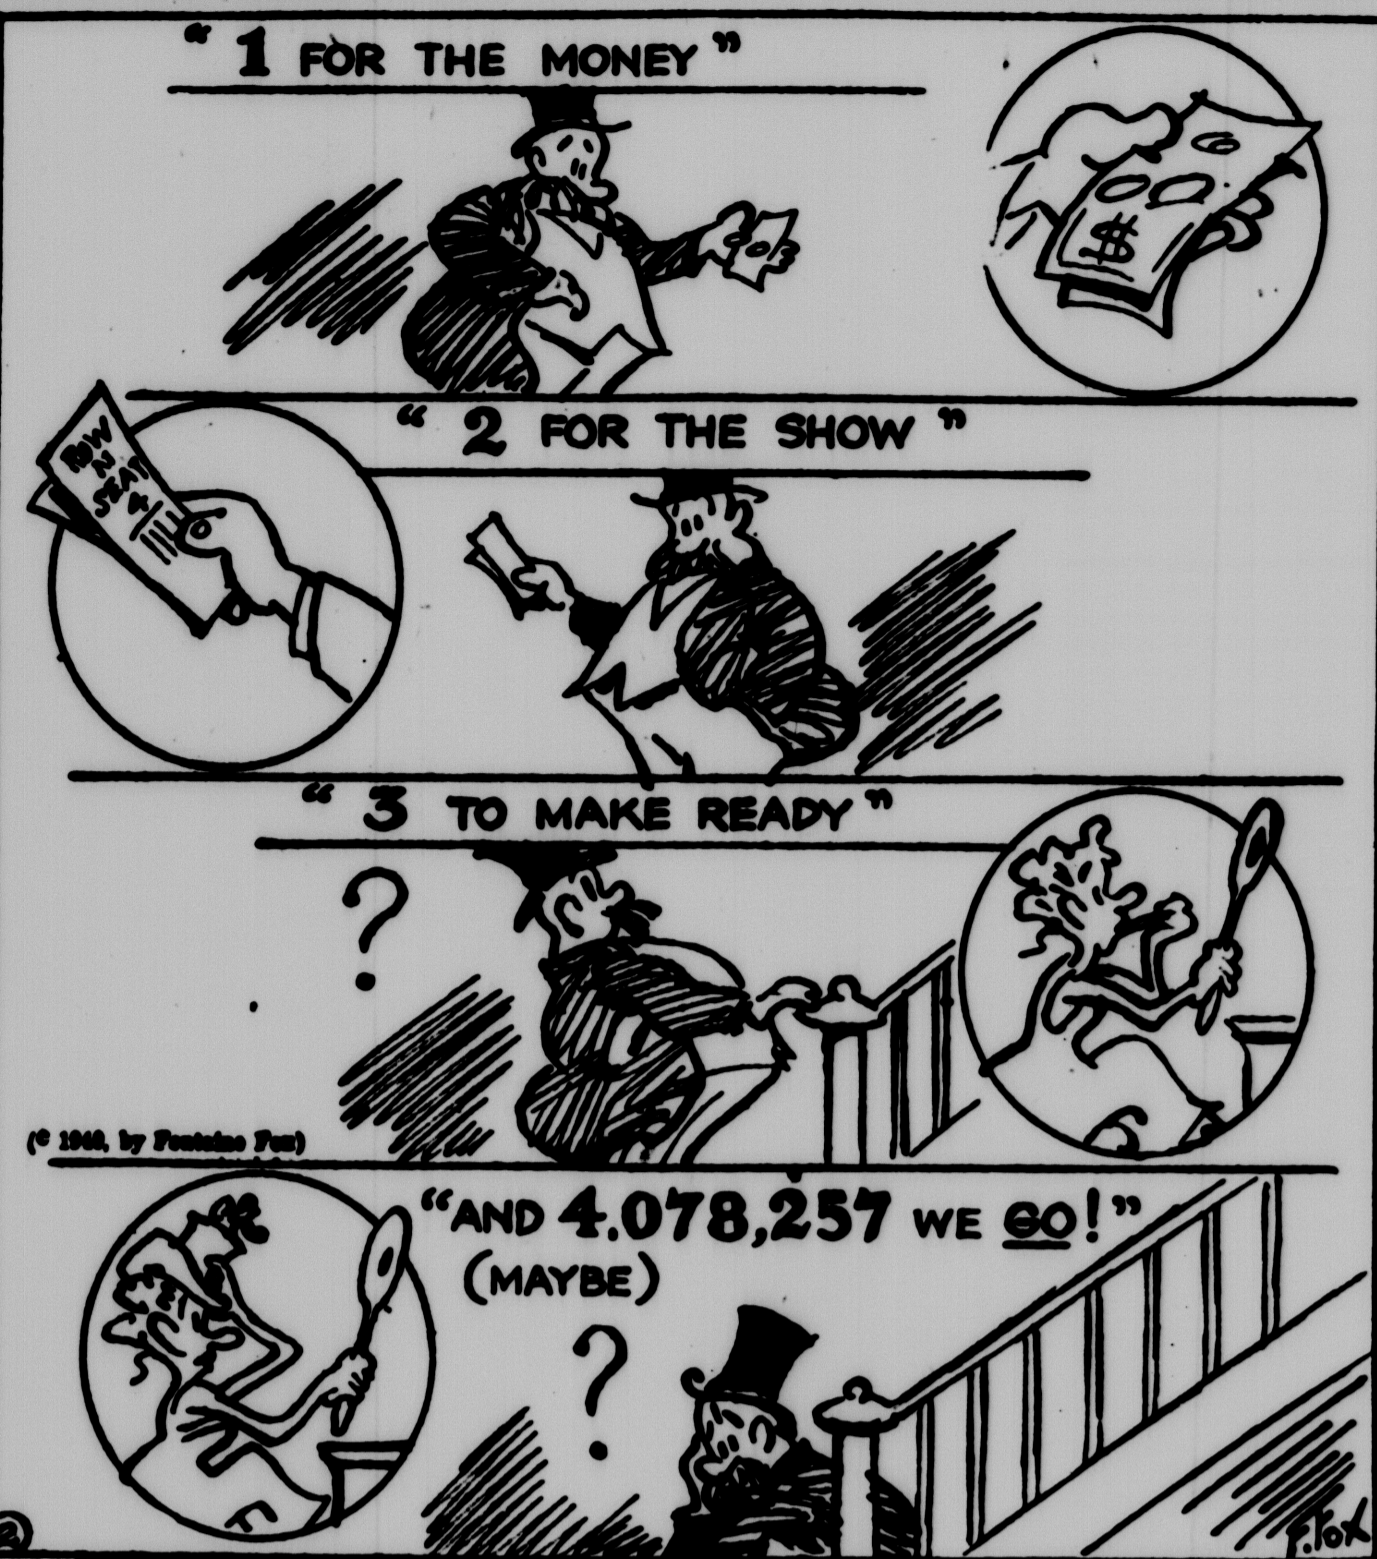

Second motorist: "Nothing is the matter with me, why?"

"You gave me a nasty look," "I did not. But now that you mention it, you certainly do have a nasty look."

Democratic strategy seems based on the theory that voters won't remember how many terms this will make if they aren't reminded.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 4:56. Sun rises tomorrow 6:32.

The other day we heard a collector of internal revenue referred to as the "eternal collector of internal revenue."

We know a chap who thinks himself a pretty smart fellow, but admits he is entirely helpless when his wife has hysterics.

Only three days more for the people to make up their minds to save America.

I know a woman who has tried to get her husband to take dancing lessons. "Take dancing lessons? Never! There are too many other ways I can make a fool of myself," said friend husband. "Yes, darling I know, but you tried all of those," replied the wife.

The time has come for people to use their heads for other things than keeping their ears apart.

Heard in a restaurant: "How did you find the steak, sir?" "Quite accidentally."

I knew of an old fellow in Shennango township who used to say his idea of hard luck was to live through a hard winter and then die in the spring.

One thing is dead sure and that is that John L. Lewis is not trying to make his people vote for Roosevelt.

If we were living out on a farm during the hunting season one of the things we would have would be a good safe place to hide when hunters are around. Sort of a bomb shelter.

We heard a farm tenant down south say he raised hops, not because they pay any better than corn and potatoes, but because they don't need any hoeing.

President Roosevelt not only hates newspapers, but aims to make it tougher for them if he is re-elected. Please pass the pickles!

We are told that transmitting electricity with wires is nearing a stage where it may be used soon. That will mean no poles in the way on the roads for one good thing anyhow.

A California man has grafted tomatoes with green peppers. Now if he can also add onions and vinegar the pickle makers can get the salt and pepper.

Right now there is a great demand for people who can do the right kind of things. People have not had much of a chance in the past seven years to learn very much except to handle a pick and shovel.

A North Hill girl says she sometimes wishes she were a man. "You don't see the men forever letting down or taking up the hems of their pants to keep in style," she explains.

How can you tell what an education will cost if you don't know the size of the notes your friends will ask you to sign?

Waste and extravagance will ruin anything. That is the trouble with the present administration in Washington. Taxpayers do not object to paying for honest things and things needed.

The depression in America already has lasted longer than in any other country in the world. The depression was first in every country in the world.

The trouble with a lot of us who are hard up all the time is that we do not figure the cost of our automobile trips and accompanying expenses, either before or after the trips.

It's a good thing newspapers are not responsible for statements or opinions in letters from their readers.

Good Taste

By E. A. Guest

A defeatist attitude toward the future of one's country is punishable in some warring nations. And quite as deserving of discipline is the defeatist in social life, who is usually punished by being shunned by his friends and by ending his days in lonely desolation.

According to the propaganda which he disseminates, the youths of today are degenerate and dissipated, our debutantes are unfit to become wives and mothers, there is no use in preparing for a specialty or a profession because there are to be few if any new jobs, and, anyhow, most of our boys are to become cannon-fodder. Even the few who do find employment will be unable to make fortunes honestly, because no one ever gets ahead except through crookedness. And, as for the career girls—they have no future unless they succumb to their employers. There is no use in buying property because real estate is sure to fall in value and it is idle to purchase securities because the stock market is certain to crash.

The whole world will be ruled by Hitler within another year—either that, or we'll have our own dictator over us.

The best cure for social defeatism is a blue pill at night, a large fizzy drink next morning, followed by a diet, low in sweets and meats and a daily workout in a gymnasium. For, like extreme piety, it is a disease of the liver.

Readers' Questions Answered
Question: My parents are separated and both have remarried. I live with my mother and stepfather. I should like to have my own father give me away at my forthcoming wedding. Would this be correct? Whose names should be on my invitations—my own father's or my stepfather's? Miriam.

Answer: It will be perfectly proper and natural for your own father to give you away. But because you have made your home with your mother, she should issue in her name alone the invitations to the church. However, your mother and stepfather should, together, give your wedding breakfast. Therefore, your stepfather's name should be included with hers in the invitations to that particular function. Unless your parents are ultra-modern, your father will not appear at your reception. He should call at your home, possibly waiting outside in the car until you come out, and leave after the ceremony. If your stepfather is at all sensitive, he will remain away from the ceremony.

But in these days, members of metropolitan society would feel no such qualms, it being considered better taste for divorced couples to be friendly than hostile after separation.

What's What At A Glance

Civil Jobs May Also Become Affected
Conscription May Bring Other Ideals
Mrs. Roosevelt Would Include Everyone

By CHARLES P. STEWART

(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Various things are likely to follow our present form of conscription.

For instance, it's purely military conscription now. But at the time the law was under consideration, the suggestion was made that conscription for essential civil jobs ought to be included. This idea still has its advocates.

Conscription initially was adopted as an emergency measure. There are influential individuals, however, who think it should be our permanent policy.

And prohibition is trying to mix itself into the situation.

In a radio forum some nights ago as potent a voice as Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's was raised in favor of conscription of everybody. She expressed the hope that some day there will be universal service not only for armed forces but also for those who remain at home.

Now, conscripting men for soldiering is a system which has prevailed so long that most folk are more or less accustomed to it. It has been and is the rule in many a very democratic country. It's recognized as having its merits. Conscripting industrial workers, though, is a pretty new totalitarian notion except where outright slavery has existed. It would catch women as well as men, too.

I wouldn't think it would be popular. It's one thing for a gent or a lady to be invited to accept employment. It's something else again to be drafted for it. Mrs. Roosevelt might like it, but I doubt a majority of us would.

Donovan O. K.'s Draft
Colonel William J. "Wild Bill" Donovan of nationwide reputation, was on the same radio program as Mrs. Roosevelt. "I believe," he said, "in universal military service as a national policy. I'm not urging that we adopt it now, but it's something that we must think of for the future."

That is to say, Bill considers it a good thing. When then there isn't an emergency. There are others who agree with him.

Newspaper readers can't but have noticed that Women's Christian Temperance Union locals, among several additional anti-drink groups, have been numerous adopting resolutions lately calling for a ban on all alcoholic centers in the vicinity of our army concentration centers. Furthermore, many of these resolutions demand alcohol's re-suppression. Every time wine and beer are introduced the movement has gained much headway thus far, but I'd bet it will if we get into the war—one corks good reason for staying out of it.

In passing I may remark that Doctor J. M. Doran says prohibition can't possibly be made to work.

He should know. We was our outstanding would-be enforcement official back in Volstead days. He was an exceedingly resolute one, too, but he couldn't get away with it. He confesses that he couldn't, and is well satisfied that nobody can. When prohibition blew up he went to work for the Distillers' Institute.

Three Possibilities

Besides permanent conscription, conscription of everybody and prohibition it's quite likely that the present emergency may lead us into still further eventualities. Those three possibilities are obvious, anyhow.

I'll say this. Our military functionaries are doing their utmost to make army discipline, this time, as pleasant as they can for the rank and file.

At the beginning of our participation in the last war, the officers were ample, concentrating a bunch of them at a railroad station, for transportation somewhere, an officer would herd 'em like cattle. He'd shout, "Hup! Hup!" and make them step properly. Then he'd shoot them into a train of box cars.

On today's occasion I've seen several delegations of early volunteers entraining from Washington, the professional in charge says caustically, "This way, gentlemen." And if they're destined for an overnight trip, he loads them into a solid train of Pullmans.

There's none of that. "You'll never get it digging a ditch—you're in the army now," tone of voice.

The scheme's to democratize the whole outfit.

It's anybody's guess how long this politeness will last, but up to date it's exemplary. If I hadn't depended I wouldn't mind being a soldier myself under such circumstances.

ADVICE TO HER
Here's how to get along with him: Make light of much that's wrong with him.

Make jest of all his foolish ways. His notions and his airs. Make light of every cranky whim. And all that is a part of him. But do not make too much ado about the stuff he wears.

Remember when his faults appear. And that they'll do before the year is ended, and the honeymoon. Has wanted to rise no more. That every fellow worth his salt. Possesses many a grievous fault. And has a lot of silliness. Which women folks abhor.

From him perfection don't expect. Make light of what you can't correct. Belittle what you can't improve. All men are silly much or less. And born to downright foolishness. Nor will it better him one bit. If you become a nag.

A picture magazine says other schools expect to boycott the "pro" football teams of the South, but surely they aren't that good.

The Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

By The Baltimore Sun (Copyright, 1940)

Close And Bitter

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. WITH the betting odds shortened almost to even money, with all the public-opinion tests showing an upsurge of Wilkie sentiment and an unusual proportion of the voters remaining noncommittal as to their choice, the campaign nears its close with both sides in a great state of perturbation. Not since 1916 has there been so exciting a finish or so many factors to bedevil the result.

IT may go big either way or it may be extremely close. The more drastic political prophets have taken to cover. The more responsible poll takers festoon their figures with loopholes, fire escapes and rope ladders. The famous Dr. Gallup has carefully cushioned himself by including the election-day weather as one of his alibis and is all prepared to argue in either direction after the votes are counted. The buoyant gentlemen who some weeks ago thought two to one was the proper wagering ratio have been hastily hedging.

IT is the kind of situation which subjects candidates, managers and followers to severe strain. It is the kind which makes for reckless charges, last-minute smears and intense bitterness. Here in New York the whole aspect of affairs is very different from that of three weeks ago. Early in October, Democratic headquarters at the Waldorf was full of confident, cocky people who laughed at the opposition, patronizingly declared that the fight is "in the bag," boasted of the brilliancy of the President's strategy in ignoring the fact that a campaign was on; laughed at the ease with which he was getting away with it.

ON the other side there was then undeniable depression at Republican headquarters. Mr. Wilkie seemed to be carrying the ball alone and not making real gains. He had had—and had made—one or two bad breaks, and the immense weight of the Federal machine, combined with the way in which the war lent itself to the third-term candidacy, more or less appalled many of his backers. The chance is very great. Within the past ten days confidence has come to the Republicans with a rush and they are working with four times the steam they had.

THAT this is true all over the country as well as in New York is indicated by the reports here. The conviction that they have an even chance to win has permeated the Democrats-for-Wilkie clubs and other amateur anti-third-term organizations, which are animated by the exhibition of activity upon the part of men and women usually inactive politically, such as has not characterized any campaign that can be recalled. Mr. Wilkie, himself, is hitting far harder and more effective blows than before, and the gallant, sincere personality of the man seems somehow to have reached the people. At any rate, no one denies that the political scenery has shifted in his favor, and at the outcome of the third-term managers are more than apprehensive—some verge on panic.

THE most convincing evidence of Administration alarm is the uncontrolled ferocity with which Mr. Roosevelt is now seeking votes. Gone is the pose that he is too busy to pay any attention to the campaign and is unconcerned about his own career. Completely abandoned is his attitude of aloofness. Tossing aside the camouflage of the "draft" and discarding the pretense that a Mr. Ickes proclaimed, he is "willing to serve" only because of the "irresistible demand of an overwhelming majority of the people." Mr. Roosevelt is campaigning harder today than he ever campaigned before. It was to have been his proud boast that he was re-elected without making a single speech. Today he is not only making daily speeches on Monday he made six but he is perceiving every eye and doing everything he can think of to get votes. It must have hurt his pride to make a personal appeal to Mr. Farley last Monday to ride in his car with him to Madison Square Garden, because Mr. Farley, as everybody knows, is opposed to the third term and is pertinently "supporting the ticket" only to preserve his party status. But he made the plea, deliberately placing Mr. Farley in a position where he could not refuse.

PERSONALLY, too, he smooched down the ruffled feather of Ambassador Kennedy, who had returned full of resentment over the way he had been treated and who was known to have expressed himself forcefully on the subject. It was at Mr. Roosevelt's order that the Democratic National Committee gave its endorsement to Mr. Kennedy for an endorsement, eagerly desired because of the weight it was supposed to have with the Irish Catholics. Personally, too, Mr. Roosevelt has mapped out the clever plan for the night before the election which will cost the Democratic Committee $100,000 but will give him and his aides a monopoly of four hours on the air from 8 to 12 for a last-minute appeal to the voters.

Girl Scout Display At Public Library

Interesting Display Includes Many Clever Articles Made By Various Scout Troops

Girl scout troops of New Castle have assembled badge work, which they have accomplished this past year in the ten fields of girl scouting, and have contributed the work to the girl scout display, being held this week, girl scout week, in the basement of the public library. The display will continue until Saturday evening.

The display is an interesting one, varying from handicrafts to collections of various sorts. Nearly all of the troops are represented. The international theme is carried out in a clever manner, with dolls dressed in costumes of foreign lands being on display. Hand-made booklets about these lands abroad are also in this section. Beautiful hand made and hand-painted plaques of birds and fruits showing the artistic versatility of the girls are being shown.

A hostess corner is another feature, the girl arranging the table in the proper manner, and appropriately using for their decorations, the hallowe'en motif. Hallowe'en masks, out of paper bags were made by one troop. Books of nature study in the form of collection of various leaves, were made, and also a book on collection of pictures of fishes.

In one corner of the room, a miniature camp has been set up with camping equipment. Outdoor activities are being emphasized, and other interesting articles on display include silhouettes, books, knitted pot holders, embroidery, oil cloth cushions, leather handicraft, bottle candle holders, books, hand-made dolls and hand-made animals.

Books on Juliette Low, founder of girl scouting may also be found at the display, as well as the various girl scout books. A full dressed girl scout and brownie are included.

Former Adviser To Roosevelt Is Now For Wilkie

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—With the warning that "we need not fear the capture of our government by a German Hitler as much as its capture by an American Hitler," Irving Fisher, professor emeritus of economics at Yale University, today was on record as supporting Wendell Wilkie.

Fisher, former adviser to President Roosevelt, asserted: "Even if Mr. Roosevelt himself is not yet, nor even would become, in effect a dictator, eventually somebody else would find the way opened wide for him by the precedent (third term) which Mr. Roosevelt is trying to establish."

Bishop To Visit District Churches

Rt. Rev. John C. Ward To Conduct Services At St. Andrew's And St. Luke's

The Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, D. The music at services will be under the direction of Thomas Evans, choirmaster, and Mrs. Ethel Evans, organist. A brief reception will follow the service, and Bishop Ward and the confirmation class. The newly confirmed will make their first communion at the 8 a. m. service on Sunday, November 10. At the service, the Junior Guild will observe their tenth anniversary and will join in a corporate communion. Bishop Ward will be the weekend guest of Rev. and Mrs. Charles J. Burton at the rectory.

The Great Game Of Politics

ATTEND PITTSBURGH MEETING OF L. L. O. I.

Mrs. E. B. Ray, of Hillcrest avenue, and Mrs. Chauncey Davis, of West Washington street extension, were in Pittsburgh Friday, where they represented the local lodge at the installation meeting of the Pittsburgh L. L. O. I. No. 19, held in their hall.

After an impressive ceremony, lunch was served the assemblage, which included guests from Butler, Philadelphia, New Castle and other cities.

On their return home, the local women were accompanied by the State Worthy Mistress, Mrs. Myrtle Huffman of Philadelphia, who will make her official lodge visits in this vicinity. She will remain here until after the Thanksgiving season, as the house guest of Mrs. Chauncey Davis.

The last regular meeting of the local organization, was held in the home of Mrs. Eliza Houston on Cunningham avenue, and was in the nature of a hallowe'en party. Prizes for contests featured, were awarded to Mrs. Mary O'Leary and Mrs. Marie Pence for 500; Mrs. Flora Cunningham and Mrs. Minnie Wright for miscellaneous contests.

Lunch was served by the hostess with Mrs. Elsie Pugh and Mrs. Bertha Shaffer, aids.

On Monday evening coming, the local L. L. O. I. Martha Washington No. 24, will gather for their session in Modern Woodman Hall, instead of the usual day, Thursday. In two weeks, however, the installation will be conducted, with Mrs. Mae McClintock of Pittsburgh, state and supreme grand mistress of L. L. O. I. as the presiding installing officer.

D. U. V. Tent 20

Warns People Who Want War Voting For Third Term

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2.—Clare Boothe, author and playwright, speaking from a sickbed in New York, today left the warning here that people who want America to go to war are voting for President Roosevelt.

Addressing a Republican rally by radio, Miss Boothe charged: "Fifteen per cent of the American people, according to the Gallup poll, want to go to war now and 100 per cent of this 15 per cent are voting for Roosevelt. They believe, rightly or wrongly, such is also his secret yearning."

"The New Dealers would favor a war, she said, because: "A war would be the ultimate justification of the third term itself. A war would distract the American people from the domestic failure of the New Deal. War would bring about a national unity when the third term failed to do so."

"War would solve for the New Deal as has solved for the dictators of Europe the unemployment problem by putting millions of unemployed into uniform."

Miss Boothe was forced to cancel a personal appearance after physicians agreed that with a temperature of 101 she would remain in bed.

High Gridders And Rooters Arrive In Johnstown Safely

Over 400 Rooters Accompanying High School Team Given Fine Reception

New Castle's high school team, which conveyed 419 rooters to Johnstown, where the local football team is playing, Johnstown high school, in its most crucial game of the season this afternoon, arrived in Johnstown at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The New Castle delegation was met by the Johnstown band and a large number of rooters and were given a royal reception by the Johnstown rooters, a fine spirit of friendly rivalry prevailing.

The weather in Johnstown is ideal, it is stated, and conditions for the game are reported as perfect.

Still Probe Mystery Of Man Found In Car

State Police Contact Father Of Cleveland Man In Jameson Hospital

State Motor Police stated this morning that the father of Raymond J. Burke, of Cleveland, who was found in the automobile of John S. Rush of R. F. D. 3, Portersville, parked in front of Morgan and Burrows automobile agency on North Jefferson street, has been contacted and will come here this afternoon.

When the young man's father arrives, more details in regard to Burke's case are expected to be solved.

He was found in Rush's car in a dazed condition, apparently suffering from amnesia. State Police took him to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where his condition today was somewhat improved it was stated.

Industrial Survey To Be Completed Today

Robert T. Beal, sent here last Monday by the National Defense Advisory Commission at Washington to look over idle industrial buildings and to study the district's unemployment, will wind up his mission this afternoon.

All week he has conferred with local plant owners, labor leaders, public officials and others, from whom vital data has been obtained.

"The co-operation I got was splendid," Beal said this morning. "One couldn't ask for more."

Back to Washington he goes today to report to his chief, Morris L. Cooke, one of the principal aides to Defense Commissioner Sidney B. Hillman. Hillman's department handles labor and employment problems for the advisory body named by President Roosevelt to speed national preparedness.

In about five other large industrial areas a like study of idle plants and idle labor is being made by commission representatives. In Washington the findings of all the investigators will be considered by Hillman. The commission wants to know just what plant capacity and labor is available for expanded defense operations.

Because he came here only to make a survey, Beal declined to talk much about it.

"This whole thing," he pointed out, "is just in the fact-finding stage."

Beal made the Greater New Castle association office in The Castle his headquarters and received the fullest co-operation of its executive vice president, Arthur H. Andrews. Andrews had urged Washington authorities to make the survey.

Hunting Accidents On First Day Of Season Reported

Eight-Year-Old Boy Is Dead And 20 Others Injured In Hunting Mishaps

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Nov. 2.—Gunning accidents on the first day of the small-game season brought death to an eight-year old boy and injury to at least 20 other persons a statewide survey indicated today.

Paul Sauder, 8, Weaverland, Lancaster county, was killed by a charge from a shotgun held by his brother Arthur, 16, while on a hunting trip near their home, Deputy Coroner J. M. Wenger reported.

At least four other persons were confined to hospitals with serious injuries inflicted shortly after the season opened yesterday. Two women were among the wounded.

The casualty list was the smallest in years, due to rain restricting the number of hunters on the season's opener.

Among those seriously wounded was Mrs. Della Mae Cole, 43, Rochester, Beaver county, who was hit by a charge from her son's gun as he cleaned it; Joseph Heil, 17, Pittstown, wounded in the thigh as he stepped on a shotgun in his father's automobile; Edward Anderson, 44, Philadelphia, wounded in the eye, left side and hand by the accidental discharge of a shotgun and Bryan Cale, 17, Washington, who was wounded in the right leg when a friend's gun went off.

In the Harrisburg area, a woman was the first casualty of the season. Mrs. Wade Killinger, 22, was shot while hunting pheasants with her sister.

Italian planes which bombed the island of Corfu bore Greek markings.

Meanwhile, the small Greek air force was reported to have carried out a low bombing and machine gun attack on the Italian airfield at Koriza as well as attacking a concentration of Italian mechanized units in the Epirus sector.

At the same time the mighty British Mediterranean fleet prepared to strike a blow in defense of Greece.

High ranking British naval officers landed at Athens and several Hellenic islands and ports and immediately plunged into the task of charting with Greek officers and pilots the entry of British war vessels into Greek waters.

Naval Activities Planned
Co-ordination of Greek and British naval activities was being arranged as the Italo-Greek conflict entered its sixth day.

Some reports hinted naval action already was under way in the eastern Mediterranean and that details might be disclosed in the near future.

Meanwhile, it was announced officially that Italian air raids on Salonika and a dozen other Greek cities killed at least 88 Greek civilians and injured 208.

A Greek radio broadcast said three Greek bombers had raided the Italian army headquarters at Koriza, causing "considerable damage to military warehouses and other military objectives."

Workman Killed At Butler Plant

(International News Service) BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 2.—Death by suffocation was the verdict today upon finding the body of Elmer Goepfert, 38, Marwood, who fell into one of the large limestone hoppers at the West Penn Cement company's mine last night.

Goepfert, who is in charge of feeding the hoppers, was missed when the limestone ran out. An investigation failed to locate him until a safety plate was removed from the bottom of one of the hoppers feeding into the crushers. It was necessary to cut holes in the side of the hopper to remove his body. Dust was believed to have suffocated the man.

Low, watery land in North Carolina is of various types, producing different plant life. Differentiation is described as "swamps, dismals, pocosins, savannahs, bays."

New Buildings Being Planned For Carlisle

(International News Service) CARLISLE, Pa., Nov. 2.—The War Department today was preparing to augment the Carlisle military barracks with 26 new buildings to accommodate 2,000 men who will attend the U. S. army medical school here.

The buildings will be constructed under provisions of a $244,500 federal appropriation. Bids, to be opened November 15, must contain an agreement to complete work within 90 days after formal notice of the award.

Approximately 700 men are now stationed at the post and new men, chiefly to be drawn from the ranks of conscripts, will raise the total to more than 2,000.

PRESIDENT WILL SPEAK TONIGHT AT CLEVELAND, O.

vertisement against this administration, paid for by Republican supporters, appears—where of all places?—in the Daily Worker, the newspaper of the Communist party.

"Something evil is happening in this country when vast quantities of Republican campaign literature are distributed by organizations which make no secret of their admiration for the dictatorship form of government."

"These forces hate democracy and Christianity as two phases of the same civilization. They oppose democracy because it is Christian. They oppose Christianity because it preaches democracy."

President Roosevelt then veered to the "conservative" side of his picture of the G.O.P. "unholy alliance" by suggesting that Communism and Southern, the utilities firm of which Willkie was the head, would not have bought twenty-one million dollars of United States government securities if it had thought the federal credit unsafe.

Again, on the conservative side, Mr. Roosevelt quoted from a New York newspaper account of a Republican campaign speech "delivered by a prominent member of the Philadelphia bar," in which the latter declared the president's only supporters "are paupers, those who earn less than $1,200 a year and aren't worth that, and the Roosevelt family."

Said the president for himself: "Forget the Roosevelt family—but these Americans whom this man calls 'paupers'—these Americans who in his view are not worth the income they receive, small though it is—who are they? They are only millions and millions of American families, constituting a very large part of the nation. They are only the common men and women who have helped build this country, who have made it great, and who would defend it with their lives if the need arose."

Attack Willkie Candidacy
Big Jim Farley, who managed the president's 1933 and 1936 campaigns, and who is still New York State Democratic chairman, sat on the Brooklyn platform alongside his 1940 successor as national chairman, Edward J. Flynn. Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, who the president once described as his "good right arm," attacked the Willkie candidacy vigorously in a curtain-raising speech just before Mr. Roosevelt came on the platform on the arm of his third son and physical counterpart, Franklin, Jr.

Also on the platform—indicating that the Democratic board of strategy had taken cognizance of Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis' campaigning for Willkie—were three former heavyweight title holders, Jack Dempsey, James J. Braddock and Max Baer. The latter three posed for pictures with Mr. Roosevelt before he left the hall in which he has spoken every Friday night before national elections for a number of years.

Brooklyn turned out in force to greet the president as he rode to the hall with Brooklyn Leader Frank Kelly, Chairman Flynn and Rep. Tom Cullen beside him. There were bands, flares, cheers and signs assuring him he would carry Brooklyn by 500,000.

On the return from the Academy of Music, however, on Park avenue and in parts of Lower Manhattan, the Roosevelt motorcade received some boos and incidental shouts of "We Want Willkie" along with the applause.

The president reached a crescendo in his Brooklyn speech when he said "I count among supporters millions of men and women who vote by the dictates of their hearts and minds, and not by the size of their bank accounts."

There are several cargo boats and coal barges operating in Bermuda that are more than 100 years old.

WHO WILL BENEFIT FROM SUNDAY MOVIES IN NEW CASTLE?

THE FOLLOWING PEOPLE, FROM ALL WALKS OF LIFE, WILL BE BENEFITED:

PARENTS, WHOSE GROWN CHILDREN NOW DRIVE OUT OF TOWN TO SHOWS:

Isn't it far better to know that your boy or girl is seeing a clean movie in New Castle than driving over crowded, dangerous highways to distant towns in search of amusements?

BUSINESS PLACES THAT NOW ARE OPEN ON SUNDAYS, AND BUSINESSMEN, GENERALLY:

In New Castle there are about 50 restaurants, 17 drug stores, 60 gasoline stations, or, over 125 places of business that can be considered as doing business on Sundays. This isn't counting hotels, parking garages, news stands, soda fountains, etc. that would also benefit from the influx of visitors from the surrounding territory coming to New Castle, on Sundays, to see a movie. And, business houses in New Castle, not open on Sundays, would benefit by keeping local money in New Castle. That builds a better community.

LABOR, TO WHOM IT MEANS MORE EMPLOYMENT and INCREASED PAYROLLS

Sunday movies are endorsed by the American Federation of Labor because it means more employment and increased payrolls. Under the six day week, as provided by law, the seventh day will naturally necessitate the employment of additional persons. This is not only true of the theatres, but also of other businesses that will require extra help on Sundays.

THE WORKING MAN WHO WANTS TO TAKE HIS FAMILY TO A SHOW AFTER CHURCH:

There are many working people, who, by virtue of their employment or other circumstances, find that Sunday is the only day that they can take their families for an outing. These people cannot afford to drive to other towns to see a movie. Surely they are entitled to the privilege of attending a movie here after they have attended church.

THEATRE EMPLOYEES AND OWNERS WHO, TOO, ARE GOOD AMERICAN CITIZENS:

More than one hundred local residents make their living from employment in the theatres. They are daily serving the public with entertainment that is an important part of everyone's existence. All of these persons are in favor of Sunday Movies knowing that it will keep New Castle amusement revenue here, to build a more prosperous town, thereby making their incomes more secure in times like these.

EVERY FREE THINKING AMERICAN WHO IS ENTITLED TO THE PERSONAL LIBERTY OF SEEING A CLEAN MOVIE ON SUNDAY IF HE SO DESIRES:

In hundreds of other good communities in this state, theatres are permitted, under the law, to open after 2 o'clock on Sundays, to show pictures (not stage shows).

There is no MORAL issue in allowing a person to have this privilege. Why should good people in New Castle be forced to drive to other towns if they see fit to attend a Movie on Sunday. It is their right to be able to do so at home.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

PEDIATRICS

When I was graduated from medical school nearly thirty-five years ago, there wasn't a single pediatrician practicing in the large city of Toronto then. I don't suppose that on the whole continent there were more than a dozen. Now, it is shown by a report about pediatricians the other day, there are several thousand baby specialists, to give them their more common name.

It is important to note that the work of these pediatricians is becoming more and more of a preventive character. That is, instead of waiting until a child is sick, and then attending him, these men make a practice of keeping their patients under fairly close scrutiny all the time and keeping them in good health.

It appears that the depression is partly responsible for this trend. Up to 1929, pediatricians shared in the general wave of prosperity. Money was plentiful, and parents wanted and got the best for their children. But when the market went crashing, and incomes dwindled, pediatricians felt the pinch even before the general practitioner.

So some of these specialists got the idea of caring for children on a flat rate basis. That is, you as a parent entered into a contract with your pediatrician. Under this contract, the specialist looked after the child the year around for a flat rate running anywhere from $50 to $200.

So, if a specialist got only his specified fee, no matter whether the child got sick or not, it was to his advantage to keep the child well. The higher fees gave unlimited services for a year, including house calls, office calls, telephone calls, immunization services; in fact everything.

Such contracts have become especially popular in the case of first year babies. Also they have been put on a monthly basis. That is pediatricians conduct a well-baby service for from five to ten dollars a month. A questionnaire sent out to pediatricians showed that the majority of them charged five dollars monthly for a service which includes immunization, and a few office visits. However, if the specialist calls at the home, then there is an extra charge.

There is no evidence that these contracts are "abused," from the pediatricist's standpoint, by the parents. In giving an unlimited contract calling for office and house visits, there is the possibility that the parents may demand too much attention. But experience has shown the pediatricists there is no ground for fear on this point.

(Look for more columns by Dr. Dafoe next week.)

A. Z. A. Chapter Initiation Tonight

Services Will Be Conducted At
Tifereth Israel Synagogue
At 9 O'clock

This evening at 9 o'clock, the New Castle A. Z. A. Chapter No. 248, will have their first initiation services, in the Tifereth Israel Synagogue.

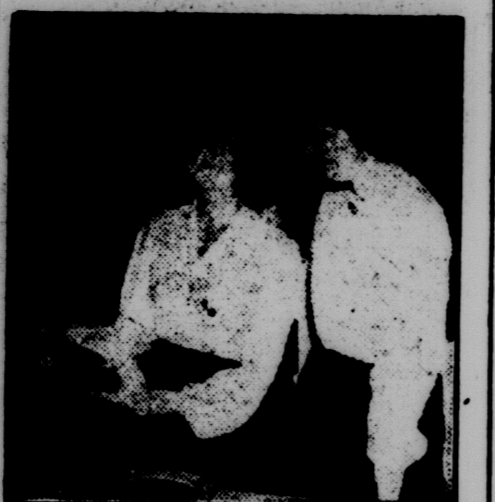

On this occasion, all non-charter members will be initiated, and following the services, refreshments will be served.

Members of the group are also making plans for its annual A. Z. A. Sabbath. The Sabbath services will be held at the Temple Israel Synagogue, commencing at 8 o'clock, on November 8. Those participating will be: Joseph Wolf, Howard Love, Sherman Kaplan and Ted Marlin.

Concluding services will be conducted by Rabbi Norman H. Diamond. The A. Z. A. will be hosts in the vestry room, following services.

In Paris, which is considered the cleanest city in France, only 25 per cent of the population have private baths in their houses.

Red Cross Juniors Give To Fund For British Kiddies

Denial Week Is Practiced And Funds Are Given To Help
Orphaned Children

American Red Cross Juniors throughout the country, raised enough money through Denial Week, when they dropped the pennies they would have spent into a box and gave it to the National Children's Fund. All Lawrence County Juniors, except the Arthur McGill students took part in this project.

From this fund, a contribution was made to establish 25 shelters for orphaned babies and children under five years of age in England, who have been victims of the German air bombings. This will bring the number of cottages sponsored by the Junior Red Cross to 35. Forty children are under care in each cottage.

In addition, a gift of $336,000 for the immediate purchase of warm clothing for English evacuees and the placing of orders for 300 ambulances and 50 motorcycles to be given to the British Red Cross.

The American Red Cross also provided funds for donation to the Women's Voluntary Services of 60 mobile canteens, the motor cars to range in price from $800 to $1,600. Ninety-six of these have been previously furnished and are operated 24 hours a day, rushing to the scenes of bombings to feed the air raid victims whose homes have crashed.

Father Watterson Speaks To Group

Young Ladies' Sodality Has
Regular Meeting Friday
Evening In Church Hall

At the Young Ladies' Sodality meeting of St. Mary's church, held Friday evening in the church hall, Rev. Fr. Leo S. Watterson, spiritual advisor, addressed the group briefly on the general program of the Sodality. Special pamphlets were distributed, which are to be used in the Sodality's library.

Mary Alice Carey, president, presided, and Margaret McGowan reported on the progress made by the Apostolic committee in the membership drive for the propagation of the faith.

It was decided that the publicity committee continue to issue a quarterly newspaper of the activities of the Sodality. The program was in charge of Margaret McGowan, and the main feature of the evening was the reading of an interesting essay by Mary Ann Gribben.

ENTERTAINS CLUB
Mrs. Harry Laughlin was a delightful hostess this week to the members of the Jolly club.

Games and a socially good time was spent, bingo being the most highly enjoyable.

Mrs. Don Cameron won first prize, Mrs. George Young second and Mrs. Clyde Hackett third.

The hostess was assisted in serving a delicious lunch by Mrs. Chas. Roberts and Mrs. James Snyder.

Mrs. Charles McDonald has invited the ladies to be her guests for the November meeting.

ZELLENOPLE VISITORS
Mrs. Hallie Orris, Mrs. Lenora Stapf and D. E. Orris were called to Zellenople this week by the death of John Guldoo of Verona. Mr. Guldoo was a resident here several years ago.

WAMPUM PERSONALS
Mrs. C. M. Harvey, Mrs. Lenora Stapf and D. E. Orris were New Castle shoppers today.

Mrs. C. H. Butler and daughter, Miss Ada Jean and Mrs. H. H. Gold spent Thursday in Pittsburgh.

GIRL SCOUT MEETING
The Girl Scouts of Bessemer gathered in the Bessemer grade school building on Wednesday and held their regular meeting. Court of Honor was held. Discussion was entertained as to the name for the patrols and the colors. Folk dancing filled the remainder of the afternoon and the meeting was closed by Taps.—Scribe, Lucille Penwell.

HUNTING PARTY
A hunting party from Wilkinsburg, Pa., motored here and spent Friday hunting, among whom were Donald M. Teetz, Paul Philidella, Edward Bardell, John Gaglian and son John, Jr.

CLASS MEETING
The Frances Griffin Bible class members gathered at the home of Mrs. August Nord of South Main street on Wednesday afternoon, October 30th and held their regular monthly meeting with Mrs. Harry Murphy as the associate hostess. After the devotional period, the business session was conducted. After a period of social chat, the refreshments were served by the hostess and her aide.

The leaves of the hepatica resemble the liver, hence its name, hepaticus—the feminine form being hepatica—is from the Latin, meaning "of the liver."

ISLAND BLAZE IS LOSS OF MILLION

MANILA, P. I., Nov. 2.—A $1,000,000 fire destroyed three solid business blocks in the city of Cabanatuan in the Province of Nueva Ecija today.

The fire, one of the worst in the Philippine Islands, started in a restaurant owned by a Japanese who was questioned by police and later released.

Employment in the executive branch of the government increased two per cent in May to a total of $77,990 jobs—some 60,000 more than at the World War peak.

Tired Eyes Soon Loose Their Charm

Men and women who hesitate to wear glasses forget the fact that strained, tired eyes soon lose their charm and sparkle. They become old before their time. Come in for an examination tomorrow! You MAY find it necessary to wear glasses only for close work, if you do not neglect your eyes too long.

To Those Who Still Have AN OPEN MIND Between The Two Presidential Candidates

THE PUBLIC OPINION POLLS SHOW that you—the undecided voter—will decide the election. You may determine the course all human civilization is to take. The fact that you still have an open mind shows that you are trying to reason your way coolly. This being so, we present one consideration that may not have occurred to you, and which may OUTWEIGH all others in the making of your final decision.

We are all being obliged in this crisis to appraise the probable course of events at a time when the future is an almost insoluble enigma.

Only superficially, only if we are blind to the CONSEQUENCES of our action, are we choosing between two individuals on November 5th. Actually we are casting our ballots FOR A DEFINITE PATTERN OF EVENTS TO COME.

Vote one way and we shall have one pattern of events. Vote another and we shall have a different pattern. But what will be that pattern of events IN EITHER CASE? No man can prophesy with certainty.

Nevertheless, we who present this message to our fellow-citizens believe that there is one inescapable—and DISASTROUS—event that will come to pass, should Mr. Roosevelt be re-elected.

It is this: as the FIRST THIRD-TERM PRESIDENT in our history there would arise an opposition to him in Congress such as has never before existed.

Our Chief Executive is given great powers by our Constitution, but infinitely greater powers reside in the Congress. No President—regardless of his party or principles—can do anything of consequence if Congress is stubbornly and bitterly opposed to him.

President Roosevelt, we all know, is not the leader of a united Democratic Party. The rift between him and the great body of so-called "conservative Democrats" has been just as strong, AND IN MANY CASES MORE BITTER, than that between him and the Republicans.

Throughout the campaign this Democratic group has been supporting him FOR PURELY PARTY PURPOSES. After the election it can be expected to come out more violently than ever in opposition against the controlling New Deal faction of the Democratic Party, which numerically is small.

All present signs indicate, also, increased Republican strength in the coming Congress. It will represent, not a minority, but a BIG NUCLEUS OF A BIG MAJORITY in both houses of Congress.

This expectable opposition to a re-elected President Roosevelt—from both Democrats and Republicans in Congress—would be one of SINCERE CONVICTION, not a mere political alignment. It would be enormously magnified by the fact that for the first time in our history a third-term President would ACTUALLY be in office.

To many people AT THIS MOMENT the third-term issue is obscured

by the international drama. But if a President is ever SERVING a third term in this country, the deep-lying fear of an ever-increasingly entrenched power-group THAT CANNOT BE DISLODGED FROM CONTROL OF THE COUNTRY will make itself felt with irresistible force.

EVERYTHING THE PRESIDENT PROPOSES—either in the domestic or international field—will be judged with this great fear in the background.

The management of our national affairs will thus be ALL BUT PARALYZED at a time when, as seldom before, unity of the national will is imperative.

If this is sound and reasonable appraisal of the future (assuming President Roosevelt is re-elected) it means merely this: his usefulness to this country as a leader has ended. Henceforth AS PRESIDENT he cannot lead a united American people. He is far more likely to be the personal and violent STORM CENTER of conflict and division among our one hundred and thirty millions of people.

This danger should most deeply concern those who are inclined to vote for Mr. Roosevelt because they believe he will be the STRONGEST LEADER in opposing the march of the dictators over the world.

Is it not FAR MORE LIKELY that he must turn out to be one of the LEAST EFFECTUAL of all possible leaders against such crafty opponents as the Nazis? Is it not precisely such DISCORD AND DIVISION among great peoples that the dictators have MADE USE OF everywhere to further their purposes?

Mr. Roosevelt would be weakened because he will be trying to lead a people HE HIMSELF WILL KEEP DIVIDED.

On the other hand, AS AN EX-PRESIDENT he will be in an unusually strong position to help Mr. Willkie, who has substantially the same international philosophy as he. He will be able to throw the weight of the great influence he will still have with millions of citizens to bring about UNITY OF ALL EFFORT in international affairs—in place of that inevitable disunity which would be created by HIM PERSONALLY as the first third-term President in our history.

We call upon all citizens to give the most serious thought to this consideration. It is presented in no spirit of partisanship.

Those who now cast their vote for Mr. Roosevelt may be voting—not for a man they admire and trust—but for a disunited and divided people; for a government PARALYZED BY BITTER ENMITY between the Executive and Congress; for a nation fatally weakened at a time when world circumstances have never been more threatening.

The danger of this happening is TOO GREAT—the consequences TOO DISASTROUS—for any thoughtful man or woman to TAKE THE RISK.

As you stand alone in the ballot booth and prepare to mark down your fateful cross, we ask you to remember this. Let common-sense prevail!

VOTE NO ON SUNDAY MOVIES—"Watch for the Extra Ballot"

"Remember the Sabbath Day to Keep It Holy"

Six days shalt thou labour, and do all thy work: But the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God.—Exodus 20:8

A Moral Issue Is Involved in Sunday Movies:

The Fourth Commandment is one of God's Commandments which forbid murder, adultery, theft, etc. Would you vote to permit murder, adultery, theft at certain hours? NO. Will you vote to turn over God's Day to the movies, a commercial enterprise operating for profits? Each ballot cast in this referendum will be a vote for or against the observance of a Commandment of God.

We Believe in Personal Rights for All Citizens:

The Sabbath is the good gift of God for our good. It should be free of labor except that necessary to public service and mercy. Every American is entitled to it as a personal right and privilege. The movies are open for business six days and six nights. But they covet the Sabbath. Is this fair? Progressive? Unselfish? Each ballot marked NO is a vote against special privilege and for equal rights to all citizens.

When You Go To Vote on Tuesday

You will be handed a small piece of paper, separate from the ballot on which you will indicate your choice for President and other officials. That little ballot is your opportunity to vote NO on Sunday movies.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Rainy Weather Delays Work On Mt. Jackson Road

Opening Of Highway Cancelled Until Guard Rails Are All In Place

Rainy weather of the past few days has so delayed work on the Mt. Jackson road resurfacing job that the opening of the highway had to be cancelled. According to officials of the Dan Mullet Construction company, in charge of the road work, it will be another week before traffic will be allowed to use the road.

All of the guard rails must be put in place before the road will be officially opened, it was learned, because of the dangerous hill and curve.

Work on this road includes widening and resurfacing from the city limits in the Seventh Ward to the top of the Mt. Jackson hill in Sunnyside.

SOMEWHAT IMPROVED

It was learned today that Mrs. Fred M. Fox, of Sixth street, who was treated in the Jameson Memorial hospital recently for an eye injury is getting along nicely at her home. Mrs. Fox was injured when a screen door at her home blew shut striking her near the left eye.

HEAR FROM SON

According to word received by Mr. and Mrs. Q. E. Davy, North Cedar street, their son, Samuel, who is a student at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa., is getting along nicely. He has just completed the first six-week period in this semester.

GROUP HAS PARTY AT PERROTTA HOME

Gathering in the West Cherry street home of Mrs. Charles Perrotta, Thursday evening, a group of friends staged a Halloween party. Games were played during the hours and prizes were won by Carol Ann Cercone, Norman Conti, Shirley Ann Lombardo, Charles Perrotta, Peter Camuso, Peter Louis, and Sylvia Lombardo.

Luncheon was served by Mrs. Perrotta, aided by Mrs. Frances Louis and Mrs. Clara Lombardo.

FRANK DOTTLE

GETS BIG FOX

One of the biggest foxes shot in this district for sometime was brought home Friday afternoon by Albert Dottle, of Forge street.

According to Dottle the animal weighed 20 pounds and measured 40-inches from nose to tip of the tail. The fox was shot along the West Pittsburgh road, near the Seventh Ward.

Dottle plans to collect the bounty on the animal and then have a neckpiece made.

PROGRESSIVE CLUB

CONTINUES DRIVE

Announcement was made today that the time for the Progressive club drive to benefit the New Castle Community Chest has been extended from the original closing date of November 4.

Because of the absence of the club president, Albert Dottle has named Nunzio Guido and Clem Pelosi to accept all contributions secured by the club.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Madison Avenue Christian church, West Madison avenue; Rev. Milton E. Shearer, pastor; Robert Park, superintendent; Mrs. C. H. Clark, pianist.

Bible school begins at 9:45 o'clock. Morning worship and communion at 10:45 o'clock. Sermon, "Christian Citizenship In Today's America." This is a theme designed for pre-election meditation.

Junior and Senior Christian Endeavor meetings at 6:45 o'clock. Evening worship at 7:45 o'clock with Mr. Shearer delivering the sermon.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Jack Solomon, North Liberty street, has returned from a visit in East Palestine, O.

Stephen Hutnick, East Clayton street, went to Johnstown today to see the New Castle-Johnstown football game.

Mrs. Elizabeth Zimmerman, Cleveland, O., is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hulbert, 608 West Madison avenue.

ST. VITUS GROUP

WILL ATTEND MASS

Members of Our Lady's Sodality of St. Vitus church will attend 7:30 o'clock mass Sunday morning at the church, and will receive holy communion.

The next meeting will be held on November 7, in the convent hall, at which time final plans will be made for a charity card party.

Concert Guild Opens November 7

Metropolitan Concert Guild Announces Offerings For Coming Season

Announcement was made today by the Metropolitan Concert Guild of the attractions on this winter's series of concerts and the dates they will appear here. The season opens November 7 with the appearance of Isaac Stern, violinist.

Stern has been a resident of the United States since he was ten months old, coming here from Russia with his parents. Since his New York debut in 1917 he has been a top flight concert artist.

On December 6, Maria Kurenko, soprano, will be the second offering of the Guild. Like Stern, she is a Russian by birth and critics over the country have been unsparing in their praise of her.

The third number of the series will be on January 22, 1941, when the Littlefield Ballet and symphony will appear here. This is a company of 65 artists who are in demand every season.

The fourth and closing number of the series is the Allegheny Singers who will appear April 22. They have been compared to the Don Cosacks in quality and will provide a real evening of music here.

The concert will be held in the George Washington Junior high school auditorium, each concert to start at 8:30 o'clock. This year late comers will be asked to remain in the lobby until the number then in progress is over. For out of the county music lovers the Guild this year will sell single admission tickets.

This year's program of concerts appears to be even stronger than last year when such artists as the Don Cosacks, Lucille Browning and Huber the cellist appeared.

HILLSVILLE

KARDETTE KLUB MEETS

Mrs. Lawrence Kiminkinen proved herself a very charming hostess when she entertained the members of the Karette Klub at her home here on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Audrey Snyder of Bessemer was a special guest.

Bridge games were enjoyed and winners were Mrs. Alton Gerlock, Mrs. David Taylor and Harriett Hemphill who won the traveling trophy. Refreshments were served in the hallowe'en theme.

WOMEN'S DIVISION MEETS

The Women's Division of Christian service of the Methodist church held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Garber. A sumptuous dinner was served at noon with Mrs. Rae Fisher assisting. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in business and social chat. The next meeting will be held the first Thursday in December. Place to be announced later.

HILLSVILLE NOTES

Mrs. Jessie Book spent Wednesday visiting in Ellwood City.

Mrs. Audrey Snyder of Bessemer spent Tuesday visiting with friends here.

Arthur List has returned to his home here from an extended visit to California and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis McBride of Buffalo Creek were recent visitors with the former parents here.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Martin and daughter of Mt. Jackson were recent visitors with the latter's parents here.

Mrs. Elizabeth Miller announces that the committees have been appointed and all is ready for Hillsville's annual Red Cross Roll Call.

Mr. and Mrs. John Latsch and sons who were residents of Hillsville for a number of years will leave next week for Warren, Pa. to make their future home.

A number of folks from here attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Jane Davis which was held at Lowellville on Thursday. Mrs. Davis had spent practically all her life in this community and was well known by old and young alike.

Seeking To Cut Coast To Coast Airplane Time

Airline Executive Hopes To Make Trip In Nine And Half Hours With Stop

(International News Service) DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 2.—Stopping long enough to take on fuel, G. T. Baker, Jacksonville, Fla., airline executive, took off from the Dallas municipal airport on the second leg of his transcontinental flight at 10:41 a. m. today.

Baker, who left Burbank, Calif., at 5:03 a. m. (CST) arrived in Dallas at 10:29 a. m. and departed 12 minutes later. His next scheduled stop is his destination—Jacksonville.

In an attempt to cut from 30 minutes to one hour from the coast-to-coast speed record for air transports, Baker, president of the National Air Lines of Jacksonville, Fla., took off from the Lockheed Aircraft Co. field at Burbank.

Baker said he would try to cover the 2350-mile flight in 9½ hours making one stop at Dallas, Tex., for refueling.

The present record for air liners is held by Howard Hughes, the millionaire sportsman and film producer, who crossed the country in 10 hours, 34 minutes, in 1938.

Baker is flying a standard-equipped Lockheed transport. It has a top speed of 280 miles per hour and a cruising speed of 230 miles per hour.

Progress Noted In Finnish Relief Work

Finnish Lutheran Church Members Have Relief Program Friday Evening

"Faith and Trust in the Lord" was the topic of Rev. Einar W. Lehto's address, delivered Friday evening in the Finnish Lutheran church on the Finnish relief program. Rev. Lehto stressed his subject in view of the coming election and mentioned the Finnish people as examples of faith and guidance in God.

At the close of the program refreshments were served by the Hemminki, Ruha and Kaivesmaki families.

During the evening it was announced that the people of this church had sent $1,297.52 for Finnish relief, and $633.47 through the Red Cross. Also, they have sent old and new clothing amounting to 750 pounds, $125 worth of blankets, three large boxes of personal gifts from members of the church and about 250 pounds of coffee. At the present time they are sending 11 comforters, $25 worth of blankets and a large box of personal gifts. Eleven dollars was realized from last night's benefit.

All of this work has been accomplished within a little less than a year. Chairman of the work is John Soyring of 608 Raymond street and on his committee are David Suosio and J. Suosio.

Net Quotas Set In National Draft

By JACK VINCENT
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Another major step in the national draft to build up the armed forces of the nation to 1,935,227 men by June 30, 1941 was taken today when credits and net quotas for states were announced by conscription headquarters in Washington.

The credits, revealed for the first time, will be the final and deciding factor in fixing net quotas of men each local draft board will furnish for induction into the army by next June.

The net quota for the United States, it was announced, will provide 789,000 conscripts by next July. The territories of Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico will be asked to furnish 11,000 other conscripts, making a total of 800,000.

In addition to the 789,000 conscripts from the continental United States, the announcement today said that the 48 states and the District

Volunteers May Meet Quota For First Draft Call

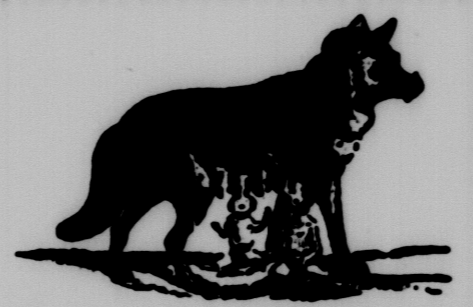

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2.—The total of draftee volunteers in Allegheny county passed the 400 mark today, leading to reports that if continued it may eliminate the need to "call" any men to the colors from the county in the first selection.

The first batch of questionnaires, it was indicated meanwhile, may go out tonight to the first group of registrants.

Master lists of numbers were mailed from Harrisburg and the later steps in the procedure that began this week with drawing of conscription numbers in Washington got under way.

Volunteers take precedence over regular registrants and will receive the first forms. Draft board members pointed out. Enlistments have been heavy in the Pittsburgh area for many months and local draft officials believe the number of volunteers from the rank of potential draftees will increase steadily.

News Briefs From City Hall

Mayor Charles B. Mayne held junior boys court in the private office of Police Chief W. G. McMullen today. The boys were accused of acts ranging from throwing dirt against windows to driving trucks. In one of the hearings adults of both sides took issue with each other whereupon His Honor said that, insofar as he was concerned, the hearings concern the boys and are for the purpose of helping boys to keep out of trouble and decided that if the parents were to indulge in an argument the proper place to settle quarrels would be in an alderman's office.

Mayor Charles B. Mayne departed at 10 a. m. today for Johnstown where he will witness the New Castle-Johnstown high schools' football game. During his absence Finance Director James Leon Pink will preside as mayor.

Chief of Police W. G. McMullen fared forth with his trusty shotgun yesterday and downed three rabbits.

An Academic Awakening

A sound-sleeping college student we heard of lately, found himself grown immune to the wakening serenade of his alarm clock. . . . So he devised a forceful arrangement to get himself up on time.

Now when his alarm rings, an ingenious gadget promptly acts: starts radio, jerks string tied to the collegian's toe, and dumps water into his face.

Personally, we do not subscribe to such a rude awakening, however effective. . . . Once you are out of bed though, a bracing shower—tempered to taste—is superb for routing all signs of sleep.

Ministerial Group To Hear Dr. Kelso

Dr. James A. Kelso, president of the Western Theological Seminary at Pittsburgh, will be guest speaker Monday morning when the New Castle Ministerial Association meets in the First Presbyterian church, corner of North Jefferson and Falls streets. The meeting will start at 10:30 o'clock and the usual business routine will be conducted.

Dr. Kelso has chosen as his subject, "The Old Testament, Fifty Years After" and will present it as a study of the criticism of the old testament of the past fifty years.

Jean Casimir Felix Guyon, Necker hospital, Paris, was famed for his gallstone operations. His high fees for these stone operations enabled him to build a luxurious country house, of which he wrote: "This house was built from three stones."

BESSEMER BAGS CLASS B TOGA; WHIPS SHENANGO

Cementers Cop By 14-0 Margin; Paul Johnson, Carmen Pezzuolo Score

GAME IS PLAYED ON SOGGY FIELD

Bessemer High bagged its eighth consecutive Lawrence County Class B football championship by defeating Shenango Township High, 14-0, Friday afternoon on a rain-soaked Bessemer field.

The heavy field hampered the play of both aggregations. Considering the unfavorable elements, the tussle was an interesting one to watch. Several hundred fans defied the weatherman to see their favorites.

Punting featured first quarter play. The rivals were satisfied to boot the pig-pelt around and hope for a break. Bessemer reached the 44 and punted to Shenango's 30 as the first stanza ended.

ing an 80 yard kick. From here in, it was an even battle.

Several Standouts

There were several standouts in Bessemer's triumph. McCree's quarterbacking was infallible. The remaining trio, Johnson, Gallo and Johnston, played superbly. In the front wall, Drahuschak, Pezzuolo and Tonkovich stood out like a sore thumb.

For Bessemer, Denny's kicking was a highlight. Sovesky, Druschel, Semansky and Pitzer were mainstays on the line. Pitzer, Covert, Sovesky, Dudash, Denny, O'Neil, and R. Donley played their last game in a Shenango grid uniform yesterday.

The lineup:

Bessemer	Shenango
Pezzuolo	L. E. Pitzer
Tonkovich	L. T. Covert
Queglia	L. G. Sovesky
Oblak	C. Dudash
Drahuschak	R. G. Semansky
Kertell	R. T. Druschel
Ferk	R. E. Moran
McCree	Q. Denny
Johnson	L. H. Stoltica
Gallo	R. H. R. Donley
Johnston	F. O'Neil

Score by quarters:

Bessemer	0	14	0	0

Touchdowns: Pezzuolo and Johnson.

Points after touchdowns: McCree, placement; Johnson, plunge.

Substitutions: Shenango, Francescone, Miron, Brunton, Glorioso, Frengel, Staph, Montgomery and Duncan; Bessemer: Grubisa, Locci-sano, Donofrio, Genova, Galetta, Guyliko, Simana.

Wabash Bears To Play Youngstown

The Wabash Bears semi-pro football team is all set to battle the Youngstown Scher Tailors at the E. & A. Field Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. In the event of good weather, there will no doubt be a large crowd on hand to watch this game. It will be the first home game of the year for the Bears. So far the Bears have defeated Koppel and lost to Alliquippa. The Ohioans will bring a strong team here made up of ex-high and college stars. The Bears will present a strong team also made up of former New Castle High and Shenango High luminaries.

The Bears have been hard at work all week long and have well laid plan to upset the team than won the city championship in Youngstown last year. So far this year the Bears are undefeated, and the Bears hope to be the first team to turn the trick.

INJURED GRIDDER GOES TO CLEVELAND

Sidney Friedman, John Adams, Hi griddler, of Cleveland, who suffered a broken leg in the game here against New Castle high school, last Friday, was taken back to Cleveland in an ambulance yesterday, and will undergo further treatment in Cleveland hospital.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Ken Overlin, a ballet-like dancer with a fighting heart and keen brain got off the floor in the sixth round, survived enough fistic bombs to rip him apart then came on to successfully defend from Steve Beloise. In a 15-round bout, the middleweight championship of the world in New York last night.

Orin Hellingbery of Washington State and "Biff" Jones of Nebraska U. will coach the All-West team in the San Francisco Shrine East-West football game, New Year's day.

Although there was a torrential rainfall yesterday it did not prevent some hunters of bagging birds and ringnecks. The fields and woods again today were crowded, despite threatening weather this morning.

Challegen defeated Can't Wait by two lengths in the Pimlico Special yesterday. It was the dullist in the four-year history of the "Dream race" because Challegen was too much horse for Can't Wait.

Church Teams To Start Practices

The New Castle Church basketball league teams will start on Monday to get in shape for the coming floor season. Practice sessions have been assigned the various teams by Henry MacNicholas.

Teams after the first practice wanting other practices are to contact the "Y" physical department. The time assignments are as follows:

9:00 to 9:30—Central Presbyterian.

9:30 to 10:00—Croton Methodist.

Bill Chip Is Navy Starter

The International News Service wire story of the Penn-Navy game at Philadelphia today carried the announcement that Bill Chip of New Castle, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Chip of this city, will start at quarterback for the Middies in this important battle.

Chip is the only New Castle boy to ever make the grade on a service team either Army or Navy.

The ball is on the 2-yard line, score tied, one minute to play. Only the inarticulate remain passive.

Football is hard on the larynx. The voice is produced in the larynx by the vocal cords. Vocal cords are set in motion by the expired air.

Voice strength depends on volume and force of air on the cords. A normal voice is produced with proper movement of vocal cords. Interference with this movement will change pitch and clarity.

Strain on the vocal cords may end with hoarseness. Continued shouting disturbs normal action of vocal cords and larynx.

Hoarseness may become chronic all during the football season.

JAPANESE ASKED TO STOP 'LOOKING DOWN' ON CHINESE

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI—An appeal to the Japanese people not to look down upon pro-Chinese Chinese is voiced in Wang Ching-wei's Shanghai newspaper, the Central China Daily News, in the course of an editorial summing up to a study in the psychology of "sincere puppetism."

The editorial speaks of China's many "humiliation days," points out that some of these are anniversaries of oppressive actions by Japan, and asks that Japanese realize that patriotism is not a Japanese monopoly but a commodity produced in China as well.

"Even in the anti-Japanese movement there is no feeling in the hearts of the Chinese people that they look down on the Japanese," it declared.

"The Japanese, however, always have a superiority complex in dealing with the Chinese, which is absolutely wrong. What we want is a peace built up by the people of the two countries on a harmonious base and in a spirit of respecting each other."

"There must be some reason for the Japanese people to respect the Chinese people," the editorial concluded.

New Castle Hi At Johnstown

Special Train This Morning Carries Several Hundred Including Team And Band

The New Castle High "Red Hurricans" football team, members of the New Castle High band, and several hundred fans and students, left the West Side Pennsy depot on the Pennsy special this morning at 10:10 o'clock headed for Johnstown, where this afternoon at 2:30, the New Castle-Johnstown teams faced each other at the kickoff.

The game was the fourth meeting between the two teams, the "Johnnies" having a two to one edge. New Castle hoped this afternoon to be able to even up the series. Three regulars were not sure of starting berths as the squad boarded the train—Lee at fullback, Morgan at center and Parou at right end.

Will Sheet Works

The special was due to reach the Flood City at 1 o'clock or shortly afterwards. The train will leave Johnstown following the game about one hour after the game ends.

Both teams were on edge at game time. Both teams apparently eliminated from Class AA honors. Johnstown by defeat and New Castle by a tie with Butler, planned to "shoot the works" this afternoon in an effort to grab the victory.

The New Castle team held a short signal drill on the soggy Taggart stadium grass Friday afternoon, in order to acquaint themselves with a wet turf in case of rain today.

New Castle Rifle Club Loses Match

The New Castle Rifle Club lost a tough match last night at Niles, Ohio, by one point 957 to 956 in a Penn-Ohio league shoot. High men for the match were Wilbur Thomas of New Castle and G. Potter of Niles both with 195 strings.

The results—New Castle—Thomas 195, Finley 193, J. Moore 190, Kilbreath 190, Gardner 188. Total 856.

Other New Castle scores—J. Williams 186, G. Williams 171, Mowrey 188, W. Bowers 177, McBride 176, Hill 160, Hammond 166.

Niles—G. Potter 195, Baskett 193, Morton 191, Hoffman 190, Reynolds 188, Total 957. Other Niles scores—Welsh 186, Corbett 184, Freeman 180, J. Potter 168, Summers 175, Dechant 174, Wack 167.

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—No need to ask Jack Peifer, rugged Marquette University sophomore tackle, about his athletic idyl. He was named for Jack Dempsey!

Among the stakes winners sired by Transmute, himself a top stakes performer, are Dit, Goldeneye, Bunny Baby, Erin, Cockerel, A La Carte and Whipper Cracker.

Cornell is deep at every position but center. Coach Snively moved two former backs to provide reserves for Bud Finnerman, who played 60-minute games last year.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Sport splutterings:—Westminster College's gridiron squad includes twins. The look alikes are Joe and Felix DeMolse, freshmen backfield men who hail from Greensburg.

Ben Keller, the ex-Elwood City High athlete, looms as one of the most promising performers on Duquesne's grid roster. The sophomore guard is the only Jewish lad on the squad.

Negotiations have already been completed for next year's Union Township-Elwood City High grid battle. The game has been booked for Friday evening, September 12. The Scotland Lane school will receive a $50 guarantee.

Several other readers, dropped in a note stating that Joe Guazza, Sammy's brother, will spread plenty of havoc on the gridiron when he reaches high school.

One for Ripley: Hal Schumacher. New York Giant pitcher has won 13 games in each of the last four seasons! Do you know why Carl Snively favors white jerseys for his football players? Because the jerseys show up much better in motion pictures. The movies happen to be the Cornell coach's favorite method of instruction.

Lou Nova started his comeback auspiciously a couple of nights back in Oakland, California. He kayeed a guy name Johnny something. The only sad note is that Nova felled the veteran Erjavac with a mystery blow. No one in the place saw the blow. . . . Tony Musto, the heavy-weight, weighs 190 pounds yet he's only 5 feet 7 inches. . . .

After that Ohio State squawb, Carl Snively, Cornell coach, said he'll agree to sit on his hands during the remainder of Cornell's games to prove that everything is on the up and up. Sounds fair enough. . . . Stan Kivie, Fordham fullback, is one of the longest drop kickers in the collegiate ranks. Kivie can split the post from the 40 or 50 yard mark. Where was he during the St. Mary's game? That's what we'd like to know too. . . .

GIANT MICROSCOPE MAY EXPOSE VIRUS OF COMMON COLD

(International News Service)

CAMDEN, N. J.—Further advances in the fight against unsolved diseases are expected to result from use of a 700-pound microscope developed by the Radio Corporation of America, Camden.

Capable of magnifying an object 100,000 times, as compared to 3500 for an optical instrument, the electron microscope was demonstrated before members of the American Philosophical Society.

Scientists expressed hope that that the device would make possible the examination of filtrable viruses which are so small that heretofore no microscope has been able to identify them. Two notable instances in this connection are infantile paralysis and the common cold.

The mechanism of the human body is wonderful. If you pat him on the back you make his head swell.

Stock Market
Trading Mixed

Irregular Performance Is Recorded By New York
Market This Morning

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service
Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The stock market put in an irregular performance today, duplicating the pattern which developed before the close yesterday.

The market was mixed from the start. Steel shares showed firming tendencies toward the close after early backwordness but the general trend continued highly irregular.

Trading was moderately active at the start, when a number of blocks running to 1,500 shares crossed the tape, but slowed down later. First hour turnover was 200,000 shares, and the total for the 2 hours was under 420,000 shares of last Saturday.

U. S. Steel, yesterday's strong spot, was under some pressure in the early trading but steadied later. Bethlehem was fractionally higher.

Douglas lost a point in a mixed market for aviation shares. Chemicals moved in a comparatively narrow range. The motors were slightly higher.

Coppers eased despite record consumption estimates. Rails were mixed and utilities quieter. Elsewhere changes were narrow.

Caribbean Area

Movements Part

Of Fleet Training

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Secretary of State Hull said today that it was his understanding that current U. S. naval movements in the Caribbean area were only part of the fleet training program and were in no way connected with American policy regarding French possessions in that area.

Hull insisted that he had not been consulted by the navy regarding the dispatch from Key West of a group of destroyers under sealed orders, which gave rise to reports that the United States was sending vessels to Martinique, a French possession.

Earlier, this country had warned the Vichy government that France's West Indian possessions to the Axis powers. Hull said that he naturally would have been consulted if the naval ships were on any mission connected with American foreign policy.

Hallowe'en Party
Enjoyed By Group

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 2.—A gala post-Hallowe'en party with husbands as guests was enjoyed last evening by members of the Valentine club at the home of Mrs. Edward Rutter, of Frisco.

The home was appropriately decorated with an effective black and yellow color motif. Five hundred was the evening's pleasant diversion with the nice awards for top honors going to Mrs. Archie Powell and James Mohr and for second place to Mrs. George Burrows, Fountain avenue.

In honor of Miss Margaret Battersby, bride-elect of Saturday, November 9.

For the occasion, the home was colorfully decorated with autumn leaves and berries and the games played at four tables followed the party's theme. Awards went to Miss Grace Harrison and Mrs. Frank Goff.

Dainty refreshments were served buffet style by the hostess aided by her mother and her sister, Miss Bessie Burrows. Place cards had the guests' names written on Brazil nuts.

The honor guest was directed to a large bowl of nuts on the dining room table and she cracked each one she found tiny notes by which she located an assortment of most attractive gifts in various parts of the home.

Out-of-town guests were Miss Ruthanne Shaffer, of Johnstown; Mrs. Balir Zeigler, of Zelienople; Miss Maureen Smith, of Akron, O.; Mrs. Clarence Ruthrauff, Miss Theima Merrillees and Miss Mary Irene Taylor, all of New Castle.

Games and contests occupied the rest of the evening after which the group departed to meet again on Friday, November 15.

Counselors, Mrs. Edward Wolman, Mrs. Ernest Reinheimer and Mrs. Sidney Berstler, attended.

Mrs. D. M. Stamm
Hostess To Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 2.—Mrs. D. M. Stamm was a special guest of the Progressive club last evening when the members were graciously entertained by Mrs. Lewis Bentrim, of Park avenue.

Bridge at two tables was the diversion with the top award going to Mrs. Robert McCabe. Mrs. Stamm was given a pretty guest favor. Seasonable refreshments were served by the hostess.

Another meeting will be held on Friday, November 15, at the home of Mrs. Andrew Zekeli, of Lane avenue.

Mrs. Kathryn Jones
Is Class Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 2.—Fifteen members of the Dorcas class of the First Baptist church were graciously welcomed last evening at the home of Mrs. Kathryn Jones, Seventh street.

Mrs. F. L. Schweitzer led the devotions with all members taking part. Games and contests of a diverting variety followed after which the hostess was aided in serving delicious refreshments by Mrs. George Meyer.

On Friday, November 15, another meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bert Fisher, Wayne avenue.

Electa Members
At Humphrey's

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 2.—At the home for Mrs. John Humphrey of the Country Club drive members of the Electa club were agreeably entertained last evening.

Cards were played at two tables with the nice awards going to Mrs. Robert Morris and Mrs. S. W. Koach and the travel prize to Mrs. George Miller, who aided in serving a refreshing lunch.

Another meeting will be held on Thursday, November 14, at the home of Mrs. O. W. Miesel on Line avenue.

In honor of Miss Margaret Battersby, bride-elect of Saturday, November 9.

For the occasion, the home was colorfully decorated with autumn leaves and berries and the games played at four tables followed the party's theme. Awards went to Miss Grace Harrison and Mrs. Frank Goff.

Dainty refreshments were served buffet style by the hostess aided by her mother and her sister, Miss Bessie Burrows. Place cards had the guests' names written on Brazil nuts.

The honor guest was directed to a large bowl of nuts on the dining room table and she cracked each one she found tiny notes by which she located an assortment of most attractive gifts in various parts of the home.

Out-of-town guests were Miss Ruthanne Shaffer, of Johnstown; Mrs. Balir Zeigler, of Zelienople; Miss Maureen Smith, of Akron, O.; Mrs. Clarence Ruthrauff, Miss Theima Merrillees and Miss Mary Irene Taylor, all of New Castle.

Games and contests occupied the rest of the evening after which the group departed to meet again on Friday, November 15.

Counselors, Mrs. Edward Wolman, Mrs. Ernest Reinheimer and Mrs. Sidney Berstler, attended.

Junior Society
At Graham Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 2.—The Junior Missionary society of the Wurtemberg Methodist church met on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Emmett Graham, of Wurtemberg.

Alice Hines led the study period and a chapter from the study book on migrant children was given by the counselor.

Tempting refreshments were served by the hostess. Another meeting will be held on the first Friday of December at the same place.

Y. P. SOCIETY
HAS MERRY PARTY

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 2.—Another merry post-hallowe'en party took place on Friday evening at the Wurtemberg U. P. church when members of the Y. P. C. U. society assembled for the monthly social.

After the unmasking, games and contests whiled away the hours in a pleasant manner with Miss Frances McElwain being in charge. Cider and doughnuts were served as the final feature.

LILLIAN JONES
CLASS HOSTESS

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 2.—Fourteen members of the Y. A. F. class of the Providence Baptist church of North Sewickley were pleasantly entertained last evening by Miss Lillian Jones, of the Ellwood-Zelienople road.

After a devotional period, games were featured with the hostess being aided in serving a refreshing lunch by Mrs. Carl McKenna.

ELKS BRIDGE
ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 2.—Five tables of bridge were in play last night at the weekly party at the Elks club with the winners being: First, Mrs. James Reasman and Mrs. Homer Garwig, 35 1/2 points; second, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnston, 33 1/2 points; and third, Mrs. L. A. Withrow and Mrs. Boyd Zeigler, 33 points.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS
Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Pringle returned to their home on Orchard avenue on Friday after a motor trip to Delmont, Del. and Philadelphia. They were accompanied there by Mrs. Pringle's mother, Mrs. Clara Vincent, who has been visiting here for the past month.

Miss Ruthanne Shaffer, of Johnstown, is a week end guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shaffer, of Pittsburgh Circle. She is here for the home-coming exercises at Geneva College and this afternoon with Miss Bessie Burrows, Fountain avenue, attended the ceremonies at Reeves stadium.

Hoover Says Roosevelt Most Likely To Draw United States Into War

(International News Service)
LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 2.—Former President Herbert Hoover placed before the country a "national policy" which he said was designed to meet all "immediate dangers" from abroad and preserve peace at home. Hoover outlined his "national policy" in a speech at Lincoln in which he scored President Roosevelt for "playing with the fire of power politics" in international affairs and declared that the United States is far more likely to be drawn into war with Mr. Roosevelt at the helm than under the presidency of Wendell Willkie.

Roosevelt's Policy Toward War

After discussing the president's foreign policy, which he said blazed a trail toward war rather than peace, the former president, whose words were broadcast nationally, gave the following as his "national policy":

"(1) Furnish all the support to England we can within the law. And I emphasize within the law, for liberty lives by law. Congress makes the laws.

"(2) Stop cultivating hysteria at home and sticking pins in tigers abroad.

"(3) Make just one more talk and then stop talking.

"(4) That one talk should emphasize that this nation wants peace with the world. It should inform the world that we are arming this country to the teeth; that we are organizing its economic strength in every corner, from the cellar to the garret; that after a year or two years, or whatever time that job takes, we are going to talk again. Then we are going to say exactly what we expect the relations of other nations to be to us and our interests. Then we will be talking in the one language which they understand.

Roosevelt Promises Weak

"(5) For the moment, that would be enough statesmanship." Hoover pointed out that "both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Willkie have promised the American people that they will not participate in foreign wars and will not send our army, navy or air forces to fight in foreign wars outside the Americas except in case of attack." But, he added:

"Mr. Roosevelt's promises have hitherto proved a little weak. And Mr. Willkie has proved himself a man of deep sincerity. Moreover, Mr. Willkie says he will not take us into war unless he is directed to do it by the people expressed through the congress.

"But there is a far more important distinction than this. We have to take account of the temperament and character of men. There are hundreds of acts which tend to drag us toward war."

CHILD SCALDED IN BUCKET OF WATER

Lucille Iatonna, aged 3 years, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Iatonna, of R. F. D. 3, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital in a serious condition, as the result of scalds received late Friday morning. The little tot was playing about the kitchen of the Iatonna home, when she fell into a bucket filled with scalding hot water.

CARNEGIE HERO AWARDS MADE

Two 17-Year-Old Pennsylvania Boys Are Among 25 Persons Honored

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2.—Two 17-year-old Pennsylvania boys were among the 25 persons honored today by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission at its fall meeting here. They, like the others, were given the commission's bronze medals of valor.

The recipients were Ralph C. Wernett, of Albrightville, Carbon county, and Russell L. Klein, of East Brady, Clarion county.

Wernett saved George W. Hosier, 30, and Albert F. Hahn, 27, from burning to death in a flaming automobile on November 18, 1939. The car in which the men were riding plunged into Muddy Run, and both were knocked unconscious. Wernett pulled both to safety, but Hosier died the next day from severe burns. Exploding shotgun cartridges endangered Wernett in the rescue.

Klein saved James F. May, 11, from drowning in the Allegheny river last March 5 when the latter broke through the ice. Klein himself was pulled into the freezing river, but he held the youngster afloat until a man extended a pole and aided them to safety.

One of the commission's 25 awards was made posthumously to one of the two heroes who died. The recipients were:

Marjorie E. Cotta, Oakland, Cal.; William L. Nelson, deceased, Gardiner, Mont.; Vaughn H. Roley, Plymouth, Cal.; Kenneth D. Schumacher, La Crosse, Wis.; Dorothy Jean Bailey, De Pere, Wis.; Irene Jones, Fitzgerald, Ga.; Norman J. Massaleno, Panama City, Fla.; Robert C. Little, Greensboro, N. C.; Ford D. Little, Greensboro, N. C.; Walter J. Niven, Charlotte, N. C.; William H. Sissel, Wichita Falls, Tex.; Joseph A. Robertson, Mingo, Tex.; Patricia Lucille Shields, Buffalo, N. Y.; R. Ted Woodruff, deceased, Peoria, Ill.; V. Nadine Slivis, Appleton City, Mo.; Thomas Wilson, New Brunswick, Canada; Ralph Allen Kelley, Nashua, N. H.; Joseph R. Arcas, Nashua, N. H.; Guy E. Andrews, Baltimore, Md.; Edward A. Warner, Rock all, Md.; Elizabeth R. Mason, Washington, D. C.; Orre E. Robinson, Mansfield, O.; and Brutus C. Johnson, West Middleton, O.

It was averred that on July 23, 1940 at 11:30 p. m. Janet Hanna was the guest in a car owned by Charlotte Conley and being driven by Ralph Conley, On Route 14 between East Palestine and Columbiana, O. the car was struck by a truck of the defendant which was following the Conley car. Miss

Holy Name Rally Plans Completed

Rev. Fr. Andrew Pauley Will Be Speaker At Rally In St. Mary's Church, Nov. 10

All priests of Roman Catholic churches in Lawrence County were represented at the meeting held in the New Castle hospital, Friday afternoon, at which time plans were completed for the Holy Name Rally. The rally will be conducted Sunday evening, November 10, at 7:30 o'clock, in St. Mary's church, as a climax to the Day of Prayer For Peace, which is also being observed on that day.

The principal speaker for the rally will be the Rev. Fr. Andrew Pauley, secretary of Bishop Hugh C. Boyle, of the Pittsburgh Diocese, who will deliver an inspiring sermon.

Another guest speaker will be Rev. Fr. Alvin W. Forney, director of the Holy Name Society of the Pittsburgh Diocese. Father Forney will issue the Holy Name pledge to the rally assembly, which will include Holy name men and boys from all parishes in Lawrence County.

An interesting program has been planned for the day, details to be published later. During Sunday morning the various Roman Catholic churches of the city will conduct services in their respective churches and in the evening will participate in the Holy Name rally.

Hanna had some teeth broken which required considerable attention by a dentist.

Mary Mylott of 435 Walnut St., Sharpsville, Pa., files a suit against Rose Sera of New Castle for $2500 for injuries alleged to have been incurred in an accident in Shaker Heights, O. The car in which Miss Mylott was riding was stopped for a traffic light when it was struck by the car of the defendant, it is claimed. The plaintiff was injured about the body.

An appeal has been taken to the Superior Court by Ferd Reiter against the Castle Foundry Corporation, Elizabeth C. Connor and George C. Stone. The case was heard recently in the Lawrence County courts.

It concerns a wage claim the plaintiff had against the Castle Foundry which is now out of existence. The claim was made against Elizabeth C. Connor and George C. Stone, as stockholders. The Lawrence County court held that the wage claim against the Castle Foundry Corporation was valid but that stockholders could not be held liable, personally for wage claims. It is this decision that has been appealed to the Superior Court.

Election kits have been started out to the boards by Clifford James, building superintendent of the court house. Each kit contains ballots, tally sheets, instructions and certificates. Each of the 100 boards get a set. Mr. James expects to be through with the delivering of the kits Saturday afternoon.

Britain Reports Bomb Attacks Made On Germany

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 2.—"Sustained and successful" R. A. F. bombing attacks against railway communications in Berlin, oil plants, arm factories and other targets in the Reich were announced by the British air ministry today.

Several of Berlin's principal railroad stations and adjoining freight yards were bombed, along with oil plants in Magdeburg and Gelsenkirchen, the huge Krupp armament works at Essen and a railway junction at Osnabruck, the ministry said.

Still other British bombers carried out concentrated attacks on air-dromes in German-occupied territory bombing 15 airports and damaging planes just as they were about to take off for attacks on Britain, the announcement said.

German "Big Berthas" mounted on the cap Gris Nez sector of the French coast also were bombed, according to the air ministry, which admitted the loss of two British planes.

Need For Preserving American Democracy Urged At Meeting Friday Evening

MANY PRESENT AT WEST PENN MEETING

In the neighborhood of 350 members of the Northwestern Pennsylvania Feed Dealers' Association from all sections of the Northwest area were present for the dinner meeting in Epworth church last evening when Dr. Allen Stockdale, dean speaker of the National Association of Manufacturers spoke on "The American Way."

Emrys Davis, of Mercer, president of the association presided.

Dr. Stockdale stressed the importance of private enterprise in business, which is one of the prime essentials on which American democracy was founded. He showed the extreme advantages of the democratic form of government as practiced in America, which although an infant as compared to other nations, has forged far ahead of those in Europe.

In addition to President Davis, the other officers of the association were Pearson Furst, of New Castle, vice president; John S. Riley, Jr., secretary and treasurer; and Carter J. Johnson, of Volant; William Osterling, of Butler; William Spruill, of Harrisville and Lewis A. Howard and Evert Grainger of New Castle, directors.

A fine turkey dinner was enjoyed by the feed dealers, and the meeting was one of inspiration to those in attendance.
